Michael Temchine Photography is an award winning photojournalist that has been helping couples remember those special moments for over a decade.

Recognized for his unobtrusive style Michael Temchine focusses on capturing the authentic moments- large and small- that tell the story of your wedding day.

Portraiture is an integral part of the wedding day. It is not often that families get together, and new families are created. This too, I carefully manage and work to efficiently execute to allow the events of the day to unfold with minimal interruption.

The story of your wedding day will be told with intimate still photos in a time-less fashion.

Real emotions. Real moments.
Real weddings.
