Hi! I'm David Scruggs, and my wife Donna and I would like to thank you for considering our awesome team for your wedding photography and videography. We know how important your day is to experience and remember, and we understand the importance of every budget decision you make.

So in pricing ourselves to be a sustainable studio, we've created a range of packages to suit most needs, any of which can be personalized to fit you perfectly without any upcharges. Regardless of budget, you have our commitment to excellence and complete satisfaction every step of the way.

That means we'll take a personal interest in your wedding day. We'll ask questions, and we'll share our experience to help you create a day that will be as beautiful in photos and video afterward as it was when you were in the moment. And on that day, our team will arrive early, excited and ready to capture the details, the kiss, the happy tears and laughter. Finally, we'll deliver uniquely beautiful images, videos, prints, and albums that you'll cherish until they become heirlooms for your children.
