WEDDING PHILOSOPHY

My mother is my muse. A California transplant from North Carolina, she effortlessly balances southern grace with a relaxed, west-coast elegance. Since childhood, I have admired her ability to discern what is most important to other people and put them completely at ease.

It is from my mother's example that I learned my most valuable skill as a photographer: forming genuine connections. While technique and artistic judgment are important, it is through the cultivation of trusting relationships that my art truly excels.

Nurturing people's faith in me frees them to let down their guard in front of my camera, making it possible to capture more authentic aspects of their personalities. This trust allows me to create portraits that reveal both the inherent beauty of my subjects and the complexity of their characters and relationships.

By making a true connection, I am able to produce timeless, honest images. I can anticipate subtle delicate interactions that might otherwise go unnoticed in addition to documenting this profound and life-altering moments no one wants to forget.

Photography is my joy and I am honored to share my passion.

OUR APPROACH

You matter most. At Catherine Hall Studios, discerning clients like you inspire our exceptional approach to wedding photography and drive us to deliver a personalized level of service that will exceed your every expectation. In addition to capturing an elegant visual narrative, we bring a calming influence to your wedding-day and are supporting partners as you walk down the aisle, celebrate, and embark upon your married life.

Rather than filling our calendar with week-after-week events, we approach wedding photography as the start of a strong personal connection with a select clientele. This exclusivity allows us to devote our full energy and creative inspiration to each couple—and to design custom packages that transform fleeting moments into priceless, enduring images.

Combining fashion photography's attention to beauty and journalist focus on revealing genuine emotion, Catherine Hall Studios delivers images that consistently keep us at the forefront of the photography industry. From international gallery exhibitions to commercial shoots and editorial assignments, we embrace our variety and hone our technical edge and then use these artistic influences to enhance every moment of your event.

You are our inspiration and the reason we approach each celebration with genuine excitement. It is our privilege to share in one of the most important events of your life and to design incomparable works of art that will preserve your memories for generations to come.
