CRAFT COCKTAILS, FOR REAL

"Handcrafted" and "Craft" are terms that get thrown around a little too loosely these days. Craft is more than just slapping some mint or mixing in hard to pronounce liqueurs. We find balance between flavors, execute recipes in proper fashion, utilize various forms of ice to control dilution and garnish cocktails for functionality, not flashiness. We're still kicking it old school over here, promise.

NO BATCHING INGREDIENTS. NO SHORTCUTS.
NO FUNNY STUFF.

Creating cocktails to order, we can make each pour a little sweeter or a bit more tart. Plus, a barkeep moving in rhythm is downright entertaining. There's nothing sexy about pre-mixed batches of cocktails being poured into your cup.

RAISING THE BAR

SPELE & TIGER WOOD BAR

Made of Sapele Mahogany and Tiger Wood (not Tiger Woods, I couldn't quite afford that one), this 13 ft. masterpiece was fabricated with the stylings of Early 20th Century New York City in mind. It boasts a 3 piece design for accommodating our larger parties while still allowing the capacity to create each cocktail to order. It is outfitted with a hand planed elbow rail, warm bronze finish, exposed filament lighting system and tons of trick detailing. This is our O.G. bar, and help put Perfect Pour on the map all the way back in 2014.

MAHOGANY AND CHERRY BAR

We loved our original bar design so much that we decided to duplicate it here in Seattle.

Replacing the Sapele & Tiger wood with rich Mahogany and Cherry woods, the mindset of our newest creation was to go a bit more contemporary than our first bar. It still maintains a distinct air of classiness while offering a more modern color scheme for today's tastes.

MAPLE AND CEDAR BAR

We gave a nod to the Pacific Northwest this time around, using tongue & grooved Clear Cedar & solid Maple trim on the vertical surfaces and a veined Sandalwood granite top. The industrial piping light system adds the perfect touch to this 8 ft, single piece bar. This design is much less cumbersome than our others, and is oriented towards our more intimate sized gatherings.

BEER & WINE SERVICE BAR

Usually the unsung hero of many of our long nights out on the town, this 4 piece jewel often plays the support role at our larger functions, offering a second space to grab a quick glass of bubbles or an ice cold brew. Every once in a while, we let her take center stage for events that are forgoing the craft cocktail scene and sticking with more streamlined service.

STAYING FRESH

Perfect Pour is committed to maintaining it's relationship with "the source". Our produce is collected locally when possible, and more often than not, direct from local farms within 48 hours of your event. All ingredients are non-GMO and organic whenever available.

HOME COOKIN'

Considering our commitment to super fresh ingredients, it'd be silly not to make all of our syrups, tinctures and mixes as well. Everything from the orgeat syrup in your Mai Tai to the grenadine in your Shirley Temple is made under our roof. DIY is a way of life for us!

PROPER ICE

We offer one of the only bona fide Ice Programs in Seattle. What does that mean? Our big block cubes for sipping whiskies or rum are unblemished & crystal clear, our hand crushed ice for high octane tiki recipes dilutes cocktails to palatability, and our chipped ice keeps that long drink cooler than a polar bear's toenail.

VESSELS

Just like ice, each style of glassware has a profound effect on your libation, and we've got you covered on all shapes and styles. All cocktail glassware is included in our rate. Wine stemware is available for rent for an additional, but extremely competitive cost.

BAR SMARTS

Seattle is blessed to be a thriving hub within the global cocktail scene. There is no shortage of talented bartenders, and we are lucky enough to employ a handful of the area's extremely gifted, hospitality-oriented (and slightly obsessed) barkeeps.

Although most of them oversee cocktail programs at other respectable watering holes around town, we rope them into getting behind the stick for Perfect Pour on their off nights.

We are all active members of Seattle Chapter of the United States Bartenders Guild, travel to various cocktail conventions together every year and constantly collaborate to improve each others cocktail programs.

DETAILS, DETAILS, DETAILS...

We know how much they matter... and luckily we're pretty well versed on "the little things". We've scoured the country's antique shops for the past few years compiling a cache of vintage barware and ornate knick-knacks that keep our bar top classy and throwback.

FAQ

Does Perfect Pour Cocktail Co. provide the alcohol for events?

Due to Washington State Liquor Laws, we cannot provide liquor, wine or beer as part of our service. We do, however, provide coordination and organization of our client's spirits order through local vendors. This ensures our customers the lowest price and the greatest selection available, as well as taking the hassle of a pre-event shopping list out of the equation. The last thing you want to do before your event is go wrestle with the masses at Costco.

Are "Pre-Event Tastings" available?

Definitely. A cocktail tasting is included as part of our service. The event coordinator or lead bartender for your event will set up a time and place to try your concoctions before your event. This will allow us to make any last minute adjustments to recipes or appearances, and ensure you are smitten with your selections. If you would like to set up a tasting before signing on Perfect Pour for your bar service, please contact us directly.

Where can Perfect Pour Cocktail Co. operate?

Most of our events take place at Private Wedding Estates, Event Venues or Homes. Perfect Pour can cater your cocktail service at a hotel or restaurant if we meet the venue's "Outside Vendor Requirements". We are able to work in public spaces if your event is sponsored by a non-profit/501c(3) organization.

Our event venue already has a bar, but we'd love to have Perfect Pour Cocktail Co. cater our beverage service. Is that possible?

Definitely. We can bring elevated cocktail service to any venue that doesn't have an existing liquor license. Each venue is different, so contact us directly to discuss any nuances yours may have.

FAQ cont.

Not everyone in our party drinks. Do you offer Specialty Non-Alcoholic Cocktails?

100%. Virgin versions of our specialty cocktails are available in most cases. We also offer homemade Lemonades and Limeades, Hand-crafted Sodas, and Fresh Squeezed Fruit Juices for those abstaining.

My Uncle Phil only drinks Gin and Tonics. Do you provide simple mixers in addition to the specialty cocktails?

Yep. We offer sparkling waters, tonics and sodas as a back up plan for all those "Uncle Phils" out there.

Our favorite bar serves this "_____" and we want to feature it at our event. Can you recreate our favorite libations?

Bring it. We love a challenge.

My friends tend to get a little out of hand when it comes to open bars. What happens if....?

All of our service staff are MAST program certified, and trained by Washington State Liquor Board for responsible service of booze. On top of that, we all have great personalities and can probably talk that fellow thats had one too many out of two too many.

Will you put out a Tip Jar?

That's ultimately up to you. Our options are pretty simple, if our clients chooses to add a staff gratuity of 10% or more of the service total, then we will forgo the jar. If there is no guaranteed gratuity for the staff, then a jar will be present on the bar for the staff.

Are you insured?

Perfect Pour Cocktail Co. and its employees are covered by an General Liability and Liquor Liability insurance policy, but it unfortunately does not extend you or your guests. Temporary insurance coverage for events is very easy to obtain, and we'll be happy to point you in the right direction if you need help.

Clients are responsible for obtaining a banquet permit from the WA State Liquor Control Board to cover their private event. Permits are $11 and very easy to procure online.

Do you offer packages?

The short answer is no, but we do have varying price points for different styles of service. Be assured that no matter what kind of service you're looking for, 5 star hospitality and a comprehensive commitment to quality are the cornerstones of our business. We will work along side you to create exactly the event you have in mind. Enjoy the planning process with us by getting creative and thinking outside the box!
