About Me

I'm a photographer and a people person and I absolutely love what I do! I'm based out of Grand Rapids, Michigan but I love to travel and no distance is too far. I love capturing emotion and think it's the coolest thing to be able to freeze those ever so important moments in time. Whether it's a smile, a kiss, a laugh, a look, it moves me and makes me feel alive! It's my goal not only to take your photos, but to get to know you and capture who you are.

Jarrold is my husband, second shooter, and amazing father to our two beautiful little girls, Olive and Juniper. We make a really good team! All of us love to travel and have adventures and make it a goal to have more of each in our lives. We want to show our kids what it means to truly love others and how big of a difference they can have in this world by doing so. I love to create and make things beautiful but my favorite thing is meeting new people and learning their stories. +
