

A romantic wedding photograph of a couple kissing on a stone path at sunset. The bride is in a white gown with a long train, and the groom is in a dark suit. They are surrounded by palm trees and a vibrant orange and purple sky. The entire scene is framed by a white border.

Meet the photographer

When I was in middle school, except drawing which I was just okay, I hated music class and had little to zero interest in taking photos. But my life took a sharp turn before I even realized. At the end of high school, I became the guitarist of my school's rock band. After finishing my 1st university, I found myself taking photos for other people more than I did for myself.

Shortly after I completed my 2nd degree in Public Relations, I had to make a choice which path I should follow: a PR professional or a photographer. Believing that I am destined to be an artist as life's led me to, I chose to become a photographer. And that is why you are reading this!
