

Taylor Made Photo KC

Well, hello!

So you're getting married, and, ummm, that's AMAZING! Congratulations! Now you're looking for the perfect photographer. But let's be honest; the perfect photographer isn't JUST the one who takes the best photos or edits in your ideal style. Those things are obviously super important - these are photos you want to be on your walls and desk and phone or computer screen wallpaper for eons. But your photographer is also the one who will help you create a timeline for your day that ensures everything goes smoothly and you get the photos you want. They'll be the one interacting with your friends and family to put everyone at ease with being photographed. And most importantly, they will be with you like an ever-present third-wheel for most if not all of one of the biggest days of your life. On your wedding day, you'll be surrounded by your closest friends and family - and your photographer. You're gonna wanna make sure it's someone you want to be part of your inner circle on your wedding day.

It's me, hi!

Hi! I'm Sydney Taylor, the photographer and everything else behind Taylor Made Photo KC. Your logical question right now is probably why I think I'M the best person to meet all of those above criteria. Here's where I pitch myself to you, so buckle up. Let's talk photos first. You're going to get the photos you know you want - the ones you've had pictured (or pinned on Pinterest) since you first started dating the love of your life.

But you're also going to get the photos you didn't know you wanted, the ones that when you see them, you will feel immediately emotional in the same way you did on your wedding day. Your gallery will have the BIG moments, the in-between moments, the details, the looks between people, the joy, the dancing - it'll have it all. Next let's talk why I'm the person you want by your side all day. I'm there for YOU TWO.

That's my job. You need a hype woman? That's me. You need someone to be a calming presence during an otherwise overwhelming day? You got it. Does your big family need some guidance to be in the right place at the right time, standing how they should, looking where they should for family portraits? I may not be a teacher anymore, but I still have my teacher voice from when I was. Does your aunt Karen not understand boundaries and you need me to tell her she can't come into the wedding suite before the ceremony? I worked in a college bar; I can be your personal bouncer and/or bodyguard. All of this to say I will make you two, and the people you've chosen to be closest to you as you celebrate, be comfortable, both when I'm taking photos and when I'm not.

I'll guide what needs guided, I'll be a fly on the wall for moments that don't need my intervention, and I'll have extra safety pins, sewing kits, and genuine enthusiasm as we celebrate your love. Because I don't for one second take for granted the fact that my job is to document love, to watch it happen and be celebrated in front of my camera, and then to memorialize it forever.

My favorite part of being a wedding photographer is taking photos where you can feel the love oozing from the photo, where you feel like you're falling in love alongside the subjects.

Now let's get down to business: below are my base packages, but I never expect a couple to fit into a one-size-fits-all mentality. If you don't see exactly what you want, we can customize a package that fits your wedding day needs and budget to a T. With every package, you have the option to add on a second photographer for any/all of your coverage. I also offer print products like custom albums, which are my favorite thing to design! And every package, no matter the size, includes unlimited downloads of all edited images for you and anyone to whom you give gallery access. You'll receive social media sneak peeks within 48 hours of your wedding, and I guarantee delivery of your full wedding gallery within 3 weeks of your wedding!
