

2017 Wedding Investment Guide

Meet the photographer...

Hi! I'm 29 years old, 10 years married to my high school sweetheart, and mama to our son, Sam. I've been in love with photography for over 10 years and successfully owned my business since 2007. I love traveling! I love food... especially wedding cake. ;) I love making adventures and creating memories that will last forever.

Why Should I Choose Ashley?

One thing I will promise you is my extreme attention to detail. I will love your wedding like it is my own and I will be there with you throughout the whole day making sure you are stress-free and everyone is having a good time. I'm goofy and will do whatever it takes to make you and your wedding party laugh! Since my first wedding in 2008, I've photographed hundreds of weddings and I have had the honor of winning TheKnot.com 'Best Of Weddings' in 2011 and for 2014. I've been published in various online blogs and websites. I love weddings. I love love. I love taking care of people and knowing that I am the one they chose to capture one of the absolute most special days of their lives!

What should I look for in a photographer?

When booking your wedding photographer a few things you should look for is their quality of work, professionalism, personality, recommendations, and lastly are they worth the investment? Meet your photographer in person and make sure you are a perfect match. Out of all the vendors you hire for your big day, the photographer is the one you will be spending the most time with. Don't hire someone based solely on the price... you get what you pay for. This is YOUR BIG DAY! How do you really want to look back and remember it in 50 years?

First Look

Most couples initially want to see each other walking down the aisle for the first time, but that has changed over the years. Many are now doing the 'first look'. Having your first moment together captured in a private environment gives you that extra special time to say the little things to one another that you would normally not have the opportunity to during the ceremony. Doing your pictures prior to the wedding allows us to get all the images you want and time to be creative. (If you're investing your money in a photographer, get the most bang for your buck and use him/her for every second you can.) It also gives you more time to enjoy your wedding and spend time with your guests. If you feel against the first look, also remember even if we do as many pictures separately beforehand, we'll still have to redo the family, entire wedding party, and get all of those images of the two of you together which could take up to an hour and a half when you could be spending that time with your family and guests. Either way you decide, I'll be there and do as you wish. ☺

Bridal Reviews...

"Ashley, we can't thank you enough for being a part of our wedding weekend! You are an incredible photographer! I love that you are so kind and super efficient when taking photos and I loved that you knew exactly what to say/do to get genuine smiles ☺. You make taking thousands of pictures a blast! I had so much fun! Because of you, I feel that I was able to relax and enjoy the wedding day, especially the time leading up to the wedding, so much more. Thank you for being our wedding photographer and for photographing every step leading up to our wedding! You are awesome!"

-Emily Simpson-Carter (Bride)

"Ashley, the first thing on my mind when we got engaged was that we had to get you- nothing else mattered! Thank you so much for going above and beyond to capture every moment from engagement pictures to the wedding. You are AMAZING and we were so fortunate to have you capture every moment of our special day! THANK YOU!"

-Shanna Thacker-Thompson (Bride)

"Ashley was wonderful to work with; she goes above and beyond for her clients and doesn't hold back when it comes to capturing the "perfect picture." I had Ashley shoot my engagement photo's, bridal portraits, and wedding (ceremony and reception); I wouldn't change a thing about any of those photos or locations. She is incredible!

The quality of the photo's, the ambience she creates in all settings, and the intimacy she captures in each picture is remarkable. She is personable and a joy to be around. On top of being prompt, organized, and professional, she makes you comfortable with your shoot-because lets be honest, posing for photographs can be quite awkward at times. She truly has gift and vision for photography, so I always encourage others to take her advice for ideas/poses/scenes/etc. My family and friends have been thrilled with all the pictures that have been taken and I definitely recommend using Ashley for an engagement session, bridal portraits, and wedding festivities! I will be using her in the future."
