

investment guide 2019

hello.

you're getting married. that's pretty exciting.

some may even say it's the most exciting time of your life, but more on that later.

you'll laugh. you'll cry. there will probably be cake.
maybe even some sweet dance moves. here's what we know for sure: you'll want to remember this day forever.

that's where I come in.

a few words

My philosophy is simple: on your wedding day, I will remain as unobtrusive as possible, letting genuine moments unfold, capturing emotion, raw and real, as it occurs. When it comes to posed portraits, we keep things simple. In fact, let's forget the word "posed." It feels stiff. I am there on your day to capture your love, not just my impressions of it. Not everyone is a well-seasoned model. I get that. You may not be used to being photographed. Feeling awkward? Welcome, my friend. I'm the queen of awkward. But this isn't about taking photos. It's about celebrating you and your love. So leave the pressure behind and focus on that love.

Stand together. Hold hands. Cuddle up. Move freely. Flirt, play, dance, kiss, hug. Do whatever comes naturally. Let's face it, you two have a pretty good idea of how to be together. You stand, sit, and walk next to each other on a daily basis. This is the same thing, just with fancier clothes.

I want you both to feel comfortable around me. I am going to be spending most of your wedding day by your side, running around with bags of equipment, acting like a goon (if only to make people laugh), standing on chairs, trying to get your flower girl to pay attention during family portraits, and scampering through fields, forests, beaches or city streets searching for that perfect shot. If there isn't a strong sense of camaraderie between us, this isn't going to work. If there is?

Let the magic begin.

e session

Let's spend some quality time together before your wedding. You'll get to know me and how I work. I'll get to know you and how you work. We'll find a groove that will help immensely when your wedding day arrives. Engagement sessions are created to capture your love and provide beautiful images of you both, wherever you feel natural and comfortable. Engagement sessions are included in the top collections, but can be added to any.

first look

You can laugh, you can cry, you can dance the jig. Please, consider a first look. There is a lot to be said for first looks. Logistically, it allows way more time to take photos. Seeing your favourite person before the ceremony eases a huge amount of stress and tension. Emotionally, it will provide the two of you with a beautiful, quiet moment to embrace the purpose of your day. Win win.

albums

Imagine this: fifty years from now, you and your beloved family are staying at a cabin in the woods. One evening, you are all gathered around a fire sharing drinks and memories. Someone pipes up "Show us your wedding photos!" and with a smile, you pull out your -- iPhone.

Wait, what?

Photographs were meant to be printed, shared, touched, felt. I do not deny the need for digital images, but there is something purely magical about printed work.

The story of the your lives can be told for years to come with a custom-made, beautifully crafted linen album. All albums include a hand selected set of your images printed on archival paper.
