Let's meet up and break away the "how do you do?" vibes and let us get to know you. We're incredibly lax, we like to have fun on our sessions. What better way than to break the ice with a complimentary engagement/save the date session. These are completely free. However a reschedule less than 2 weeks away will reside in a $100 fee added to your bill. All sessions are in town only (Orlando area) * Out of town bookings forfeit the session.

A very experienced, seasoned photographer I've worked with for years. This photographers have their own company but we've managed to create a network to help each other whenever the opportunity arises. They are there to help for the first 4-5 hours of the event to help split the work between our couples.

Debating on the venue, logistics, or time frame, a second shooter is a must to not risk failing very important moments. However for the most part if everything (getting ready, ceremony and reception) takes place in the same location you won't need one.
