The Nitty Gritty

THE BASICS

Kaia Calhoun Photography will keep your images archived for 2 years.

- Every package will include a high resolution digital copy of each edited wedding photo unless specified otherwise. (The image count varies on a number of circumstances but eight hour wedding coverage should produce 500+ final images)
- I am an eclectic, colorful and real photographer so I like to customize sessions and products for my clients.
- For a full list of prints, albums and other products request my Product PDF.
- Bombard me with questions! I won't get sick of you I promise.

PAYMENT

Half of the package fee is required to reserve your wedding date with me and is non refundable. The final payment is due on or before the wedding day (I recommend sending the final payment a week or so before).

TRAVEL

I am available for travel worldwide! However, travel fees may be applicable if your wedding is outside a 30 minute radius of my home - exceptions may be made for locations near Elgin, IL or Buffalo, MN. Contact me for a specific quote, further details, questions, or concerns in regards to travel.

My Style

I am a photographer bent on capturing the uniqueness in life. I strive to serve my clients lovingly, creating a series of memories they can cherish forever, and making them my forever friends. I shoot honest photography - real people, real colors, and real life.

Your wedding might be the most significant event of your life. My job as your photographer is to make sure you have a record the love you shared on your wedding day, the uniqueness that went into your day, and all the events that made it a celebration. As such, I like to focus on three main things with my weddings: formal portraiture, creating moments, and details.

THING 1: formal portraiture.

My goal is to capture the bride and groom and all their special people through out the day. (This always includes the bridal party and family.) My style is ultimately natural so I work with you throughout our time to showcase the unique you. I strive to make you comfortable with me and my camera - by being real with you, you can be real with me. And there's really no other way to describe this so I suppose you will just have to book with me and see for your self!

THING 2: creating moments.

Also known as photojournalism or candid. This category encompasses all the "happenings" of the big day from the ceremony to the reception and all the little "moments" in-between and surrounding the monumental celebration. From when I arrive to when I pack up I am at the ready for all the major events of the day and on the prowl for great candid moments.

THING 3: details.

My third, and final, mission on a wedding day is to capture everything that's put into the aesthetics of the day from the bride's gown and personal items to the center pieces at the reception. I take this job very seriously because you have put a lot of work into these details!

1 Year Anniversary Photo Shoot

Every October my husband and I get together with a photographer to take anniversary pictures. I love that we take these pictures because life after the wedding it is all too busy and therefore it's all too easy to forget to get good pictures together - at least any that worthy to be put on display! Includes: 1 hour couple photo shoot and a CD of your images.

Wedding Guest Book

This is a custom designed guest book. You choose photos from your engagement photos to go in the album and we design it together. Then have your guests sign it at your reception! (Also available in 8x8 and 12x12)

Second photographer

Second photographers are for getting more of the moments you'll cherish for a lifetime. They are particularly great to get more of the getting ready (while I'm with the girls they can photograph the guys), more ceremony moments and angles, more coverage during the bridal party/couple photo time (as I take pictures of the couple they can be taking more of the bridal party), or they can cover your cocktail hour while I'm off galavanting with the bridal party, and they lend an extra eye at the reception. If you think about it, you are not just hiring another camera, you're hiring another creative eye.
