WELCOME!

TO Ina Pandora Photography

Hello! I know that you can't see me right now, but imagine I'm sitting across from you at your favorite coffee shop with a big grin on my face (and a delicious beverage in hand). And imagine we're about to get to know each other really well. I like to start out any meeting with a hug or a high five, so let's also pretend that we've already done both those things.

Before I get into all of the details about myself, I'll start by telling you my name. I think that's a good place to start, after all. My name is Ina, yep that short and simple ;) and I am from Republic of Moldova. I am a Happy mother of a 12 y.o boy, his name is Adrian, but i call him Adi.

I'm not just a mom, though. I'm a lover of the arts, and an accomplished photographer. Since I founded Ina Pandora Photography in 2009, I've photographed hundreds of happy couples all across the Moldova and USA. I've even been acknowledged for my work in national bridal magazines, wedding blogs and local businesses.

Some may call it luck, but I call it a passionate drive with success as my final destination.

I believe a picture is worth a thousands words!...

With that said i gotta mention i had the best childhood ever, modeling for my father who used to do photography and spending countless hours in our little bathroom called "Development Lab" :) waiting to see the result of his work as he photographed me and everyone else, i still get shivers thinking about those moment. It just reminds of Missy Mwaс words:" If you think photos are not important wait untill that is all you have left".

Reason why i decided to be a Wedding Photographer is because i am absolutely inlove with "LOVE", emotions, romance and the weddings usually are the richest event surrounded by these emotions; happy tears, dancing and celebrations of happiness, it's like you got to live in a fairytale full of magic for a day, where even the smallest detail has to tell a story. I love being there to document it all. From carefully planned details of the wedding to those unforgettable moments that simply must be captured for posterity.

Can't wait to share my passion and years of photography experience with you. Maybe we can get that coffee for real?!

I'm truly blessed to do what I love and i can't wait to hear your story.

Yours,
Ina

SHOW US THE LOVE!

THE ENGAGEMENT SESSION

First and foremost, you should have an engagement session done because it's fun. You get to pamper yourself and dress up and -- here's the best part -- snuggle and kiss your best friend for a good hour or two.

Engagement sessions also serve as prime bonding time for you two. In fact, many of the couples I photograph tell me that their engagement shoot brought them closer together, something they didn't think possible considering how much they were in love already. How's that for amazing?

Think about it, though. When you're doing intimate things such as just looking into each other's eyes, holding your partner's hand or resting on his shoulder in very romantic settings, it's impossible not to fall more in love. Truth: In our fast-paced world, sometimes we forget to enjoy the silence and the moment and just be together.

There are also practical reasons for an engagement session, too. For example, many people use shots from their engagement shoot for save the dates, wedding invitations and even thank you cards post-wedding. (Psst. We can totally hook you up with those extras.)

Your engagement photographs are also great to use on your engagement website, for announcing your engagement online and for simply documenting yourself as a young and in-love couple. I promise you, your grandkids will get a kick out of these pictures in, say, 40 years!

"We never doubted our decision at all in choosing Ina for our wedding! She's an amazing person and the best photographer there is."

YOUR WEDDING DAY COVERAGE

WHAT WE CATCH ON YOUR BIG DAY...

We are literally with you from the early morning of your wedding day to the late evening hours of your reception shindig. Only Ina Pandora Photography isn't all in your face paparazzo style the whole time. For most of your day, you'll hardly even know we're there snapping away. That means a weight off your shoulders and lots of time to spend focusing on making sure your big day goes smoothly.

Getting Ready

We start the day by photographing you getting ready. Don't worry. This is all very much G-rated and we'll make sure to capture your pretty face only after you're all done up. Think detail shots of your fragrance du jour, you slipping into your beautiful shoes, a crowd of happy bridesmaids in their slouchy sweatpants and impeccable hair. The same is true for the men, too. We'll capture them fastening boutonnieres to their lapels, candids of dad giving the groom some sage advice and groomsmen laughing it up while the women get ready.

Portraits

When you book with Ina Pandora Photography, you'll also get formal and informal portrait shots. That includes those gorgeous bridal portraits, handsome pics of the groom (perfect for propping up on your work desk), group shots of the entire bridal party and all the family portrait shots you could ever want. We like to do a mix of both casual and traditional for these shots.

Ceremony and Reception

Of course, we also document your entire wedding ceremony and reception, complete with all those big -- and small -- moments that must be caught on film. That includes walking down the aisle, the big kiss, the officiant speaking, musicians playing, and family and friends listening/watching. We'll also capture all those fun and heartfelt moments at your reception, from tearful and hilarious toasts to some mad dancing skills to cake cutting and beyond.

Details

Rest assured we'll capture all those details you planned, as well. You spent good money -- and time -- planning your special day; we're here to make sure it's documented beautifully. We'll photograph the tiniest details on your wedding favors, the sugary flower ornaments on your cake, the lanterns hanging in the trees and anything else you thoughtfully included.

Extras

Depending on the package you choose, we'll also be there for your wedding day and other moments leading up to your wedding day, including the rehearsal, rehearsal dinner, bachelorette and bachelor parties and even your wedding or bridal shower. Check out our package page in this magazine for more information.

TIPS AND TRICKS

AND A HANDY CHECKLIST TO KEEP YOU ORGANIZED!

1. Create a detailed timeline your wedding day that includes when flowers are set to arrive, when people should arrive, when hair and makeup will get done, etc. Include exact times and locations. Share this timeline with everyone involved in your wedding, including your photographer.
2. Have food on hand while you get ready. I made the mistake of barely eating on my wedding day and ended up with a headache. Having healthy snacks and lots of water on hand will make for a better day.
3. Practice walking in your wedding day shoes to make sure they're comfortable enough to stand around in for your portraits and for the duration of your wedding. Pain is beauty, yes, but looking pained in a picture isn't worth the discomfort.
4. Pack a "wedding day emergency" kit and bring it along with you on your big day. Essentials include some clear nail polish for snags, pain reliever for headaches, any makeup you need for touching up and a travel sewing kit. Band-Aids, lozenges, tampons and tissues are also good.
5. Have your cake and flowers arrive at the latest possible moment (but still budget in some buffer time). Flowers wilt and cakes can melt on hot days, so putting these deliveries off can ensure both look great for your pictures, ceremony and reception.
6. Have a "spot checker" on hand who's there to help you out with things like tangled trains, smeared lipstick or out-of-place hair. This can be someone in your bridal party or the mother of the bride, for example.
7. Whether you're doing your makeup yourself or having a makeup artist come in, do a trial run. This is especially important if you have sensitive skin, as an allergic reaction on your wedding day would not be good.
8. Order at least 25 extra wedding invitations than you think you'll need. It's better to have extras "just in case" and often times it's less expensive to buy in bulk than to order just a few extra.
9. Follow up with all your vendors a week before your wedding to make sure everything is in place and ready to go. Should anything be wrong (say, the florist only has you down for 4 bouquets instead of 5), this will provide plenty of time to fix the mistake.
10. Expect the unexpected. Sometimes things don't go as planned, and that's OK. In the long term, it's your outlook and attitude that makes for a brilliant, successful day.

FAQs

DO YOU TAKE PAYMENT INSTALLMENTS?

Yes, of course. We can work out a payment schedule to make sure you're able to pay for the photos. All we ask is that you pay 30% up front to lock in your date and have the remaining amount to us 2 weeks before your wedding.

SOMEONE ELSE IS PAYING FOR OUR PHOTOS. WHO SIGNS THE CONTRACT?

No matter who's paying for the photographs, it's always you -- the bride and groom -- who signs the contract. You'll also be our primary contact and who we speak with leading up to, on the day of, and the days following your wedding.

CAN I HIRE YOU TO SHOOT MY DESTINATION WEDDING?

We absolutely love destinations, so the answer to your question is a resounding, "Yes!" We have a separate contract for destination weddings, which details accommodations and travel expenditures.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO GET MY PICTURES?

You will always receive your pictures within 10 weeks, but usually earlier. During the busy season, we sometimes get backlogged, but even then we do our best to have all digital negatives to you within three to four weeks.

DO YOU DESIGN THE PHOTOGRAPHY ALBUMS?

Our modern coffee table albums are absolutely breathtaking and yes, we do design them in house. We work with you to include the photographs you love best to ensure you love your album from cover to cover.

DO YOU PROVIDE CUSTOMIZED PACKAGES?

Not all weddings are the same -- we get it! For that reason, we may provide a customized wedding package to suit your needs. These customized packages are for weddings that are far outside the norm (for example, a very short, intimate wedding between only parents and the bride/groom). Talk to us and we'll make it work!

ARE BLACK & WHITE PHOTOS INCLUDED IN THE PACKAGE?

Absolutely, all the packages will include black & white photos. Although which ones get converted is optional for photographer to select.
