ABOUT...

I stumbled into photography by accident after starting a degree in architecture in Barcelona, Spain. Once I began shooting I never looked back. I enrolled in a three year photography program the next semester at GrisArt, a photography university in the heart of the city.

It was love at first sight. I finally found an art form that allowed me to share beauty as I see it. Everywhere.

I quickly learned I loved taking images of real life and capturing emotion in natural lighting. There is something so special about capturing beautiful moments forever.

I have an eye for detail and sentiment. I like to always imagine pictures and how they would make us feel. My style has a fine art approach. I love photography styles with a strong sense timing, composition and art.

Costa Rica is a photographer's dream!! It is truly amazing. It is the perfect place to create the stunning images I dream of.

I love telling stories. Let me tell yours.
