Since it has become relatively easy to book your travel online these days with popular sites such as Expedia and Travelocity, many people may wonder, why use a travel agent? Good question!

Here are a few reasons why it's a great idea to work with a travel agent at Honeymoon Travel Boutique:

- You can work with a person rather than a computer. When you are planning one of the most special vacations of your life, it can be very reassuring to finalize all of the details of your trip with a person rather than a nameless, faceless website.
- Our service is free. Many people are simply unaware that travel agencies are compensated by travel suppliers (i.e. hotels, resorts, cruise lines, car rental agencies etc.), not by their clients. We never charge any fees and you will never pay more to use our personal services and expertise than you would to book your vacation yourself.
- We save you time. The average couple planning their honeymoon on their own will spend 30 - 40 hours researching, planning and comparing prices online. In today's busy world, not everyone has that much time to spare. You can simply delegate this task while retaining authority to make final selections and decisions.
- We make sure you get the best deal possible. Travel agents have access to pricing and insider information that is not available to the general public. When planning your vacation, we carefully examine all of our suppliers to find you the best value for your money.
- We keep you from feeling overwhelmed. When it comes to travel, there are so many options and countless resorts to choose from! We have already done all of the work for you and have carefully handpicked only the best resorts that are most ideal for a honeymoon or romantic vacation. We will help you cut through the information overload found on the Internet and quickly narrow down your best options based on your unique preferences, priorities and budget. Plus, we may come up with interesting ideas you would have never thought of on your own.
- We help you avoid the pitfalls found with online travel websites. Online travel websites such as Expedia or Travelocity are popular, however they provide very little service, and you do all the work! They are notorious for overselling hotel rooms, which means you could show up your destination only to find out you have to move to another hotel. Also, when using an online travel website, it's highly likely you will get one of the worst rooms on the property.
- We make sure nothing is left to chance. Travel agents can educate you critical issues that you might overlook, such as travel advisories or warnings for specific destinations, ensuring your layover is long enough to get through customs, immigration and security and the pros and cons of purchasing travel insurance.
- We give you the option to make payments in installments. When using an online travel site, you usually have to pay for everything up front. Most of our travel packages only require an initial deposit to confirm your reservation.
- We are there to help if something goes wrong. A travel agent is your biggest advocate and will go to bat for you if necessary.

So there you have it. You can certainly plan your own romantic vacation or honeymoon, but it just makes the more sense to work with a travel agent. Contact us today and let Honeymoon Travel Boutique take the stress out of your vacation planning!
