hello!

Congratulations on your engagement, and thank you for your interest in my wedding photography! One of my favorite parts of this process is meeting you for the first time, hearing your story, and getting to know why you chose each other. This is such a happy journey for both of you and the excitement you feel as you begin the adventure is why I love my job so much.

Weddings are about far more than this one day in time. They're about life and love colliding in an infinite starburst of possibilities, sending you off into the next phase of the legacy you're creating. My job is to make images that show your authentic humanity; the wonderful and weird moments that make up your story, the love that brings your people together, and the life that we all share.

My goal is to capture life as truthfully and as beautifully as I can. Let's do it together!

you should hire me!

It's important to choose a photographer whose work you love, and who you will feel comfortable spending time with. I bring high-quality professionalism to your photography, and I do it with warmth, sincerity, humor, and authenticity. I can be quietly unobtrusive (past clients have called me a “photo ninja”) so that I can capture natural interactions, and I can be charmingly efficient when it's time to round up the troops for family photos. I know how to pin a boutonniere and bustle a dress. I always carry stain remover, safety pins, and mints. I have the skills to work with existing light and can make the most of dark churches and reception halls. I will never, EVER, ask you to “say cheese.” Most importantly, I know how to find the sweet and subtle moments in between — in between the walk down the aisle, the exchange of rings, the first kiss. There are so many vignettes that make up a wedding, and having the right photographer there to capture those amazing, unscripted, totally authentic moments will make all the difference in how your story is told; the result is a genuine narrative of your day.

wedding coverage

Many photographers limit the number of hours that they will spend at your wedding. While I do agree that there are natural starting and stopping points, I don't ever want my couples to feel like they're on the clock. Full-day coverage is offered in my two top packages, and it means that I will arrive when you need me to, and I will depart when you are finished with all of your photographable moments.

No overtime charges, no worries that I'll miss your fancy exit. It's your wedding day, and I'm on your team. If, after all that, you still can't get enough of me, I can be hired to provide coverage for your rehearsal dinner, your day-after brunch, even your bridal shower. Those events will cost extra, but what fun to have photos of the whole experience!

frequently asked questions

We like a candid style, but can we also include some formal portraits?

Of course! We will schedule time during the day of the wedding to make sure that all of the photographs you want are completed.

What is required to book you?

I'll need a $500 non-refundable retainer to reserve your wedding date. The remainder of your balance is due no fewer than 14 days before your event.

How long will it take to get my photos/album?

I typically have your gallery ready for you about six weeks after your wedding. Once you've chosen your favorite images and signed off on the design, your album should be ready in about four weeks.

How many photos will we get?

Depending on the length of your day, I deliver anywhere from 600-1200 edited proofs.

Do you photoshop our images?

I am happy to do minor Photoshop editing, at my discretion, to remove blemishes or spots. I do not do any heavy retouching or liquification, as I believe that we are all beautiful just as we are!

Can I post our photos on social media?

Of course! I want you to show them off! I will provide you with web-resolution watermarked images for your profile photos, etc. I only ask that you include a photo credit.
