VIDEOGRAPHY

* Videography is split into two, very different services. The first – ‘The Cinematic Highlight Reel’ – is a highly produced video (color correction, cropping, transitions, etc) that includes slow motion shots and music. You can find examples here: thomashedges.org/w-e. ‘The Standard Documentation Package’ is the more traditional, home video-style, straight capturing of the wedding’s most important moments: the ceremony, toasts, dances, cake cutting. These moments are then strung together into a longer form highlight video that ends up being about 45 minutes long. We don’t provide examples of ‘The Standard Documentation Package’ on the website due to length.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. Do your video packages include delivery of raw footage?

A. No. We record in 4k and the files we end up with are, well, titanic. That being said, we also value accommodation. So if having the raw footage is critical for you, we can usually work something out (and into the price) to make sure you end up with what you need.

Q. What equipment do you use?

A. Our studio uses mainly Sony alpha cameras for photo – the Sony a7iii with a Sony Zeiss 55mm f/1.8 is our favorite combo – and a Canon C100 Mark ii for video. We also have wireless microphones, digital recorders, tripods, flashes, a handheld gimbal and much more to play with.

Q. How does payment work?

A. We require a downpayment of 30%, which doubles as the reservation fee. The rest, 70%, is due the day of the wedding. We mainly accept PayPal, Venmo and checks. For the 70% same-day payments we offer a $100 discount if you can pay in cash.

Q. Do you work with a second photographer/videographer?

A. No. The most you'll get from us is one photographer and one videographer per wedding. We prefer not to be a distraction :)
