

At Will Stewart Films, we are focused on creative, cinematic filmmaking to tell the story of your wedding. With over seven years of experience in film, television, and commercial shooting and editing, we provide a level of expertise that provides you the highest quality wedding video, regardless of budget. We offer full service production, from day of shooting to the final custom color grade, ensuring that your video is exactly as you want it to be. We'll meet as many times as you would like leading up to the wedding to make sure that every detail is in place, and our work isn't done until you are completely satisfied with your final video. We offer several package tiers to accommodate any budget, but no matter what package you choose, we guarantee our level of quality never changes. Send us a message or email today and let us get to work on immortalizing your big day.
