Please get in touch with me to talk and I will create a proposal for you.

With all weddings please, please reach out and let's see if it is a fit! It's your Wedding Day and your photographer becomes an essential part of your day. All weddings are unique. Everyone has their own story to tell; let me tell yours in images that will last a lifetime. Above are my guidelines, but I will customize each wedding proposal with you and help plan your timeline to create a day you will re-live over and over through your images. My photography is unique and authentic. My background as a photojournalist informs every shot I make and my passion for couples, inspired by my own family, is my inspiration. I focus on intimacy and emotion with attention to split second moments, light and composition. I'm here to tell your story, with love.
