Dima Vazinovich

I've doing wedding photography for 11 years now and doing documentary photography basically since i remember my self with a camera.

My goals as a photographer are to capture real personalities, real emotions, and real events in artistic and memorable ways. Each unique wedding day unfolds with its own magic, and I shoot each one . differently by my own point of view on the each and every couple i meet

Photography is a lot of things, but it's certainly not about us. I want to know about you. I want you to .tell me a story. We're here to make it look good
