

Here's what you need to know about fees:

Rev. Kathi's fees are usual and customary for the top tier wedding officiants in this area. Trained, experienced, and caring professionals who are legally ordained - not "online ordained," which is not sanctioned in North Carolina and leaves couples vulnerable to the possible invalidation of their marriage).

What's included:

Personalizing, customizing, or crafting of your wedding ceremony.

Editing as many times as you want to make your ceremony exactly as you want it to be.

Sending and receiving as many emails, phone calls, texts, and/or face to face meetings as you need to make your ceremony exactly as you want it to be.

Being there for you with answers to questions and concerns and providing positive encouragement and support. The following services are included:

Coordinating with other wedding vendors

Outlining of Processional, Recessional, and Order of Service

Performance of your wedding rites

Obtaining signatures of witnesses for your Marriage License

Filing of legal documents and any follow up that may be necessary

There are packages available to fit every budget. I'm not able to be exact about fees outside of a consultation. I'm not being secretive, it's just that I have a number of ceremony options and my own personal creativity that you may choose as the best fits for your taste, beliefs, and personalities.

What I can do right now is tell you that fees range between $300 - $650 and that my most popular package falls at the upper end of the scale.

Elopement style weddings run $250 - 350 for a short and simple yet meaningful, and joyful religious or secular elopement type ceremony.

My lovely and unique mid-range ceremonies run $450.

My most meaningful specialty weddings which are created exclusively for you and feature your personal love story run $550.

There is an additional $150 fee for facilitating your wedding rehearsal and possible travel fees beyond the Research Triangle may apply.

Online ceremony rehearsal is available during this time of Covid-19 for a fee of $50.
