I Don't Just Take Pictures "Of You" — I Take Pictures "About You."

When you hire a wedding photographer, you're not merely paying for pictures. You are paying for the photographer's artistic perspective. Each photographer interprets their subjects in a certain way. Their individual perspective is what makes each wedding photographer unique.

My goal is to ensure that your wedding photos are beautiful and flattering, but that they also capture the true essence of who you are—both as individuals, and as a couple.

There is no "filter" or magic setting on the camera that does any of this—this is the realm of experience, sensitivity, and craftsmanship.

I have spent the past 25 years as a professional photographer honing my craft.

Please read my client reviews online, and let me know if you think I might be the right photographer to capture your wedding day memories.
