Historic Weddings for your Historic Love

History

Rippavilla Plantation is an historic home located just south of Nashville in Spring Hill, Tennessee. The home sits on nearly two hundred acres of rolling fields and boasts a variety of ceremony and reception locations including an 1855 historic mansion, carriage garden, boxwood garden, sunroom lawn, brick courtyard and more.

Rippavilla has been a proud member of the Spring Hill community since 1840 when owners Nathaniel and Susan Cheairs began construction on the building that now houses our wedding office, groom's room and kitchen. The Chairs family lived in this small building while constructing the main house. The family moved into the nearly 10,000 square foot mansion in 1855 and lived in the home until 1920.

Since then, Rippavilla has been a private residence, community center and now operates as an historic home. Your wedding becomes part of our history - let's celebrate today.
