

Courtney Cook Weddings

the PHILOSOPHY

I am a wedding photographer because I value both art and marriage. I strongly believe that it is my professional duty to document your entire journey of becoming a married couple. I will begin the day with you getting ready and end the day with your final dance and send-off.

I take pride in operating on a shoot-and-share business model as I became a photographer to offer my artistic services and to document life.

I do not believe in keeping images hostage and therefore use PASS to digitally deliver the processed images to my clients with the full intent of them sharing, downloading, and printing as they wish.

I still passionately believe in true fine art, though, and therefore offer timeless products that will maintain the integrity and honor of your family's legacy.
