

Weddings, Elopements, and Engagements

Katherine Harper Photography works as a team of professional photographers to produce original and beautiful photos and print products. As a newly-wed herself, Katherine understands the stress that comes behind the wedding and the planning leading up to the big day. Working with KHP is sure to be a stress-free and easy process. The first step is to contact us (which you've already done, congrats!) Once you review our packages and what is offered, we can set up a free consultation. This is to get to know the two of you better and to get a feel for what you need on your wedding day. We'll go over everything from who you are, who I am, what your vision for your wedding day is and what is needed from us. Should you chose to book KHP; a non-refundable retainer is due along with a signed contract. We will then set up a small meeting closer to your wedding day to go over photo requests and any final details (phone call, email, or in person).

We understand that not everyone fits into a cookie-cutter mold, and not every wedding is the same. If any of the below packages do not fit your needs: Let's set up a meeting to review your wedding day, photo requests and budget and we'll be sure to create a customized package that works perfectly for you.
