HELLO, WE'RE JOHNNY + LONEY

In 2017, we began our floristry journey when we arranged the bouquets for our very own wedding. (That's right, we're a husband-and-wife team!) In the process, we discovered how deeply unsustainable conventional floristry is, and we ended up making an Instagram account to share what we learned. Thanks to our following, we discovered the huge demand for sustainable floristry that didn't harm the environment - and yet when we got married, we couldn't find a single vendor that exclusively used organic local flowers. So, we used our backgrounds in fine art (we met while receiving our MFAs at Pratt Institute) to create unique, sculptural, beautiful — and sustainable — arrangements and vessels. Before we knew it, we had created our dream jobs.

SEASONAL

All of our flowers are grown locally, meaning we celebrate the seasons with fresh blooms in spring, summer, and fall, and with dried grasses, flowers, and seed pods in the winter.

ORGANIC

Not a single one of our flowers is grown or sprayed with toxic pesticides or chemicals. We work with small organic farms in our area, and your blooms are harvested the night before your wedding day to ensure peak freshness.

CUSTOM VESSELS + DECOR

---

Our studio in New Fairfield, Connecticut is equipped with a state-of-the-art kiln and ceramics studio, a screen-printing station, and a robust 3D-printing lab. In addition to making beautiful flower arrangements, we can create just about anything you can dream up. In the past, we've made custom ceramic centerpieces using imagery selected by the bride and groom, 3D-printed bubble letters for a breathtaking living wall, and silkscreened napkins for a truly customized tablescape.

We can accommodate a wide range of styles, from whimsical and quirky, to elegant and sophisticated, to vintage and artistic, and everything in between.

PRICING

Because we tailor our creations to each client's unique vision, no two weddings are priced the same. We'll send you an estimate after our first phone call, but in the meantime, here's a sample price list.
