WEDDING

WELCOME GUIDE

YOUR LOVE STORY TOLD THROUGH MY LENS.

I choose you

To the mountains and back over oceans and rivers

time and space and distance.

No pause

no doubt.

I choose you.

HI, I'M TEA AND THIS IS MY STORY

Like most people I am a dreamer. I dreamed of marriage and finding that perfect husband since I was a little girl. Can you relate? Most of us played house as a little kid. Dressed up and pretended to get married, you know all of those cheesy childhood memories. I have always loved love! I'm a sucker for romance.

I met a lot of frogs through my journey but then I finally met my handsome husband. We actually met online. Go figure right? Our first date was on New Year's Eve of 2013 and he instantly knew he wanted to marry me. I know, we have a cheesy love story. He soon asked me to marry him in March of 2014 and then we married that September. Hey when you know, you know right? I honestly couldn't ask for a better husband. We are best friends.

We have been married for 4 years and though we have had an amazing marriage we are currently struggling with infertility. We so badly want to grow our family but for now it's just not in God's plans yet. We believe with all our hearts though that God will provide a family for us in the future in his perfect timing, we haven't given up hope. So in the meantime we are enjoying each other's company and spend as much time together as we can.

I find that a lot of people talk about how they fell in love with photography because they started taking photos of their children, but as you already know we haven't had any children yet so that's not my story. I fell in love with photography because it gives me so much joy creating something for others that will last them a lifetime.

When I picked up that camera for the first time and really pursued it I instantly fell in love with creating memories. I got my first camera in 2013. I knew nothing about it but I was determined to learn. Photography soon became my passion. I never would have dreamed of coming this far. 5 years later and here I am specializing in wedding and engagement photography.

I love capturing pure love and romance. Photography is important to me, it captures true moments that we can't get back. I love to create dreamy romantic images that tell YOUR love story.

So are you ready to create your dreamy love story with me?

CONGRATULATIONS

you said yes!

In the whirlwind of congratulations, pinterest boards, and advice from every direction - You've probably begun to dream and plan out what you'd like your wedding to be like. Now that you have picked out the perfect date and venue, the next important step is who will capture your memories? The end result will be your precious memories of your big day that must be handled with great care. You'll spend months making each and every detail perfect, planning out every little moment to be executed and captured in the most beautiful way possible to bring your dream day to life and I want to capture every detail. This is where I step in - As you plan on how to get from here to that day, I'll walk through the journey with you and give you the insight and guidance to bring your vision to life on how you want your day captured. We will put together the perfect timeline for portraits so your day is as stress free as possible! You'll cherish it for the rest of your life, after all what is left from your wedding day are your memories and your images, and I want you to be able to look back at your images for years to come and feel the joy and warmth that was created that day.
Your love story will come to life over and over everytime you look back and refect on your images.

THE PROCESS

I believe that connection is important. If you would like to meet in person to go over your wedding details and the contract before booking we can sit down with coffee for a consultation to discover your vision for the day!

If you are unable to meet in person for a consultation but would still like to book with me, everything can also be done online through your computer or mobile phone.

After you have booked with me and everything is final we can start planning for your engagement session and wedding timeline.

I always send out a questionnaire for final details a few days after booking so that you can look it over and start getting an idea on how to plan out your wedding day so that when the time comes we can make sure that everything is finalized and we are on the same page before your big day. We work together to prepare your perfect timeline so your wedding day goes smooth and is stress free as posssible.

Excellent Photographer!
Tea is an amazing artist! She worked great under stress and our pictures turned out beautiful!

We enjoyed having Teas Photography capture our wedding day. She was on time and ready to go. She also was very accommodating with a few extra shots we wanted. Her professionalism and friendliness was amazing. Her photos turned out so great! I would definitely consider her for future photographic needs! Thank you for making our day last a lifetime!

F A Q

What is your retainer fee and when is the balance due?

I ask for a $350 non-refundable retainer fee to secure the date upon contract signature. The rest is due one month before the date of your wedding. I will usually contact you a month before anyway to catch up on timeline planning and make sure your questionnaire has been submited for final details. You may also make payments leading up to the due date as well if you like.

How would you describe your photography style?

My style is slightly moody and modern. I use the latest editing software to ensure your wedding photos will be as perfect as they can be. I love natural light and candid natural shots that capture true joy. But I also can work with indoor lighting and know when it is appropriate for posed or guided shots as well.

Can we give you a list of ‘shots’ or show you our pinterest board?

As an experienced professional wedding photographer, a detailed list such as ‘photos of rings’, ‘a photo of the dress’ is unncessary. These photos will be taken as a matter of your timeline. I welcome ideas for inspiration and to get a feel of what you like but overall, I would prefer not to work from a checklist. Let me explain why. A list of family groups helps make sure we don’t forget anyone during a set time of the day in the hustle bustle of your wedding. However giving me a long checklist for the entire day will only slow me down and mean I am only missing special moments while checking off the list. My goal is to capture story and emotion of YOUR wedding day. I want it to tell YOUR love story in all of its beauty.

Can we share our photos on Facebook and with family/friends?

YES absolutely. Your photos come with a personal use license. This means you are free to print, email or share your images with your faimily and friends. Unlike other photographers I DO allow you to give your digitals to family and friends. The only restriction is commercial use. So please ask first before submiting them to any magazine as I sill hold copyrights.

How many photographs will I receive?

It’s very difficult to give an exact number since the number of photos taken depends on many things. (Planned events, the amount of coverage etc.) on average for a full day I have found the number is around 400 but please know that the final number will vary depending on the day.

How long will I be waiting for my photos?

Typically I will post a sneek peak the next day, along with highlights of your day within 2 weeks of your wedding day so you have some photos to share with family and friends. The rest will be delivered to you within 4-8 weeks from your wedding day. I will keep you informed every step of the way.

Do you travel?

Absolutely! I love to travel. I do require a travel fee if your venue is outside of my surrounding area, but in some cases you might even get a sweet deal if its a spot I've never been / want to visit as I want to travel to more places and shoot all over!

I’m in! How do I book??

Amazing! I can't wait to meet up with you. Simply contact me by email, phone, or my website contact form. I'll schedule a free, no obligation consultation with you to make sure we are a good fit and that I can meet your needs, and then move forward with a contract and retainer to secure the date! (If you can’t meet up and would still like to book, we can also do everything online through your computer or mobile phone.)

Tea did our engagement & wedding pictures and we couldn't be happier! She is such a sweet person and super easy to work with. We are so lucky to have found Tea to capture our once in a lifetime moment! The pictures are absolutely gorgeous and there is no doubt that she is incredibly talented. Her prices are more than fair and she travels! I would pick Tea 100x over and hope to work with her again in the future. Thank you SO much Tea for everything!
