

My story is simple, I have fun making people happy and I want to do that EVERYDAY!

I am the planner amongst my family and friends. Family dinners, birthday parties, baby showers, etc., I am the one everyone calls on. Although it can be stressful and time consuming, I love every minute of it. In 2012 I decided to start LMason Wedding and Event Planning to see if there was anyone out there, besides my friends and family that would love my work. I am so glad that there is!

My passion is for the bride that has been dreaming of her special day since she was a little girl, but can't quite put all the pieces together. My passion is for the "mom to be" that wants a shower, but doesn't want to break the bank doing it, and for the person wanting to throw a big bash for their milestone birthday, but has no idea where to start!

Welcome to LMason. Let's start planning together and have a blast doing it!
