Commissioned Paintings

The process is easy just email me a couple photos, nancy@nancyspielman.com.

I will get back to you promptly with any comments and then you can decide the size and shape of painting you would like.

I require a deposit of one half the final cost before I begin your painting. This deposit can be made through paypal (with a 3% fee), check or Venmo. The appropriate shipping charges will be added to the prices listed below*. Lead time is about a month. I will send you a digital photograph of your new work of art for approval. I almost always will have the painting finished for final approval within two weeks. After final approval, the painting will dry. This takes about two weeks. If you need it sooner, I will do my best to accommodate you. Before shipping I will need the second and final payment. The painting will be packed in a professional manner, shipped and insured.
