I can not think of a single thing that could have been better.

If I could give more than 5 stars, I would. In preparing to write this review, I thought back over the whole process of meeting with Olivia prior to my wedding, her performance on the day of, our interactions since, and the final photos.

The two most common comments I received from guests after the wedding were how much they loved the location and how impressed they were with the photographer.

To be honest, she was so wonderful that even if the pictures had only been so-so, we still would have rated her highly, but the finished photos absolutely blew us away. She gave us a selection of really gorgeous shots.

My husband and I spent hours going through them unable to believe that one person was able to capture so many special, lovely moments so perfectly.

Olivia nailed the staged photos, and she far exceeded our expectations when it came to the candid. Everything I want to remember about that day is right there in her pictures. They are emotional and artistic while still being personal and true to who we are.

I have no idea how she did it, but I'm forever grateful.

We met Olivia when she photographed a friend's wedding, and having seen her in action made her an easy choice for us.

I can't say enough good things about her! She really took the time to get to know us and to figure out what we're all about, and I think it comes through in all of our photos.

Olivia has amazing attention to detail, and her work is a great combo of candid, photojournalistic-style shots and the requisite wedding portraits—which she makes completely painless. She captures the heart and soul of the wedding from the fun interactions between our guests to the cool features in our venue and décor—making everything look beautiful.

Besides being an amazing photographer, Olivia is super fun to work with. She's good at keeping things on track and at being flexible when needed. She's always thinking two steps ahead to make sure things go smoothly—all the while, she's calm, cool, and collected—which really helped me keep my cool on our big day!

Olivia is the absolute best, and we'd hire her again in a heartbeat!

Who are you? An artist jack of all trades: Fine Artist with a BFA in photography and painting, recreational lap swimmer & international touring cyclist, sustainable management MBA with a soft spot for organic gardening, and human caretaker to my New Zealand white rabbit, Bun. I'd also love to tell you about moving to San Francisco in 1999 with a dream of being a professional DJ, or my too-big disco ball delivery fiasco, but I'm supposed to keep this to just 3 things and I'm already at 4 or 5...

Why are you drawn to wedding photography? The stories of love, celebration, friendships, family, beauty, creativity, meaning and ceremony all come together during the wedding day. Inviting me to tell your story is an honor and a professional responsibility that I deeply appreciate.

PS: My personality type is The Guide, and I truly enjoy supporting my couples. You're literally about to have the best day of your lives + the photos to relive it.

Wait, did you say Pet Rabbit? Yep. I invite all of my clients to come to meet Bun (and me, but he's cuter) in person at my home studio loft & gallery in Oakland. Sure, you'll get to see album samples, hand-picked frame samples, gorgeous metal & wood fine art prints, and fine art canvases. But most importantly you'll get to meet Bun. We'll relax (on the patio if the weather is nice, which it almost always is in Oakland) and together we'll get wonderfully clear on: (1) What options align with your values and budget, and (2) Are we a great personality fit? (3) Then Bun will distract us while begging for carrots. Speaking of carrots, I'll have drinks and snacks for you during our meeting. I love feeding my guests, and I really appreciate meeting in person if you're local.

PS: Technically, we can also meet via video chat or phone—especially if you live outside of California, but my Bay Area clients will tell you:

The experience of meeting your wedding photographer in-person is invaluable. There's a trust that's created from being invited into someone's home, and a deeper level of understanding—personally as well as aesthetically. This trust becomes effortless comfort between you and your photographer, and that comfort flows into an indescribable ease + happiness in your imagery. PS: #DrinksAndSnacksToo!

Working with Olivia may be the best decision we made for our wedding. We were looking for a photography style that we liked (natural, clean, bright, unstuffy portraits & warm candids) and for a personality fit.

Olivia was a great fit for us because she is professional and reliable, her work is absolutely beautiful, and she is just a joy to be around. She is cool, calm, fun, trustworthy, kind, and she put us at ease every step of the way.

Olivia was also our keystone vendor—she recommended lots of our other vendors, including our superstar planner. We opted for an engagement shoot, too, which was a great primer on how to interact with each other in front of a camera.

She really got to know us, and I think that resulted in photos that feel personal and very “us.”

She scoped out great locations to take photos on the day-of, worked on a detailed timeline and portrait list with us, and she was very thoughtful about asking about family dynamics and priorities. Olivia has a knack for commanding attention during chaotic family portraits, while also managing to be completely unobtrusive. She also offered to come shoot our welcome party, and we are so glad she did! That night people were reuniting, and she caught some really beautiful moments. She also got to meet our families, who all loved her!

My mom hates smiling for pictures—she can be really happy and in a great mood, but when you get the camera out, her face freezes up. I don’t know exactly how this happened, but my mom said, “Olivia taught me how to smile!” Olivia had shown her how to relax her face and smile naturally, which has literally changed our family photo experience for life. We still tell people that “Olivia fixed Mom.”

I still don’t know how she got some of these photos that I don’t remember her being there for, but she did, and I’m so glad!

Thank you, thank you Olivia. Your photos are a huge part of the way we will think about, remember, and share our wedding with the people we love.

It’s hard to overstate how happy and grateful we are.
