MEET CHELSY

Owner and Lead Planner

Meet Chelsy, Founder and Head Planner here at the Gathering Co; she is full of passion for people, gatherings, and has the last say on all TGC design and planning.

Chelsy carries a deep love for experiences + moments, and lets this be the foundation for every decision for both our couples and company. On a wedding day she doesn't sit down, serves with creativity, and always strives to do better for everything she touches and sees - even if that something has to be redone a million times until it is perfect. Her wedding days are full of care for her couples and families, along with the hardworking vendor team that is behind every gathering, and she can never get enough! Chelsy loves Jesus, a nice glass of chianti, cheese boards (vegetarian!), teaching yoga sculpt, collecting cutting boards, and always has to be around others - she is equally obsessed with Disney, architecture, innovation, and never lets herself be content with her current state - she always presses for the next lesson, the next idea, and the next strategies - how she can become better and better for her clients and brand.

OUR STORY

The Gathering Co. was started after a long day in her corporate cubicle as a Marketing Assistant and an email to her husband saying "it's about time". Chelsy comes from a large family with a mixture of event creatives and military backgrounds, and says this has given her the best balance of structure and art. Before TGC she always had designed and created work for others, hosting and curating moments of joys, so it made sense when this passion became too much of a priority to not do something about it. After 6 months of working 2 full time jobs, she chose her company and ran for it - and hasn't turned back since. Through years of learning from her family, praying through doubts + direction, and meeting vulnerability + self-confidence, this company is made of strength, love for people, and a passion for unique + intimate gatherings.

Her passions for the future - - She wants (and we know she will) to own 3 business by the time she's 30, be invited to speak at an event/conference, continue to grow in creative knowledge, and always, to be a better and better planner for her beloved couple.

OUR TEAM

We're a local event planning company to the beautiful Carolinas + beyond. We have a RAD team of 8 that each bring a touch of their own unique personality and creative talents to TGC. Our creative corner of this industry started out of our owner's, Chelsy's, deep love for love and creating a day so special to your story and style.
