ENGAGEMENT SESSIONS

Imagine it's the morning of your wedding. You're nervous and not even dressed—and the first person in your room is a stranger, with a camera! Talk about intimidating! Let's ease that stress, and take some beautiful pictures in the process.

I aim to create images that capture the heart and soul of the couples I photograph, and the secret ingredient behind my art is the relationship I have with my clients. Capturing intimate moments between couples requires time together. The engagement session is the perfect opportunity to give you insight into how I work with my clients, and (if you and your fiancé have never been photographed together professionally) to help put you at ease in front of the camera so that we can relax and enjoy creating natural, beautiful images on your wedding day.

After the session you'll receive a disc of print-ready, high-resolution images, and have the opportunity to order a keepsake album or book of your photographs. Engagement photos make for beautifully personalized save-the-date cards, and an engagement album can double as a unique guest book at your wedding!

Because my working relationship with my clients is so integral to the photographs I take, my initial consultations/meetings and engagement sessions are complementary and risk free. I want to be sure you work with a photographer who is the best fit for you. Clients have the opportunity to preview the engagement session portraits prior to the delivery of the archival disc. If for any reason you decide that another photographer would better suit your needs, you may refuse delivery and cancel your contract for a full refund of all deposits and fees.

BRIDALS

Whether you decide to schedule your session to coincide with a dress fitting and a makeup test before your wedding or prefer to wait until after you say "I do", bridal sessions are a wonderful way to create beautiful and intimate portraits without the time constraints encountered on the wedding day itself. Bridal sessions can always be purchased separately if you find that your wedding day schedule (or the weather!) didn't allow for the portraits you'd hoped for. As with engagement sessions you'll receive a disc of print-ready, high-resolution bridal images, and have the opportunity to order prints and displays.

FAQ

Q: How quickly will I receive my images?

A: I take particular pride in exceptionally fast delivery of images. Because of the very low volume of carefully spaced weddings that I shoot in a year, my full attention is given to one wedding at a time—before and after the big day! While many (most?) professional wedding photographers take months to deliver images, you can expect your images within two-three weeks.

Q: How many images will I receive?

A: All wedding packages include a disk of your final retouched images. While the number of varies from event to event, I generally deliver between 500 and 700 final images. The overall number will depend largely on the amount of details present, the length of the wedding day celebration, and the amount of time allowed for portraits of the bride and groom.

Your final disc will have two sets of your final images: one for print, and the other for the web. The images in the print set are sized for 8x10 prints at 300dpi. The images in the web set are sized specifically for sharing on the web, and contain a small watermark. Please, only share these watermarked photos online so as to prevent image theft.

Q: How much do you charge for travel?

A: There are no travel fees applied to locations in and around the Triangle area. Travel fees for destinations outside of the Triangle area do not exceed cost of airfare/accommodations. For a custom quote, please inquire by phone or email.

Q: How do I reserve my date?

A: Once you've decided on a package, all you need to do to reserve your date is complete your contract information and pay a 50% retainer fee due at the time of the engagement session. After the retainer and fee are received, your date is officially reserved! The remaining balance is due 14 days prior to your wedding date.
