

JRLowe Photography

So, you want some insight into the guy behind the glass? I live and work in Raleigh, NC with my beautiful wife, gorgeous daughters and occasionally good looking dog (Coach). Yes, at times our house is organizationally challenged 😊 But I wouldn't have it any other way. For as long as I can remember, I've always had an affinity and fascination towards the camera. I started seriously studying photography a few years ago, years pass, and that curiosity has evolved into my obsession. I am excited every time I'm asked to photograph a special occasion. I take each opportunity given as an enormous responsibility and will do my best to make each photo worth putting under glass. I'm a fun guy, but when you need that moment captured,

I take that responsibility serious. After a shoot, I take the time to edit each image by hand...one-by-one. Each image is touched before it ever leaves my to do list. All my collections include the disk in final, fully edited high resolution digital images for your use. You can print them, tweet them and Facebook them to your heart's desire. They're your memories and I want to help you preserve them in a way that makes you smile every time you see them. 😊
