With this package comes many different options. I understand that you might not know when your'e getting proposed to. If that is the case, my best advice would be to give your future spouse my information and let them plan this service with me at ther discretion. On the other hand, if you're the one proposing and have no idea if this is the right option for you, I'm here to help! I offer this as an individual and add-on because handling this on your own can be daunting. If you simply want to capture your special moment, then further discuss videography options with your partner later, purchase as an individual package. If you already know you want me (I'd be HONORED) to film your wedding day, purchase as an add-on. Wether you want an individual video of your engagement or shots added into your final wedding film is up to you!

This is a great option if you want a special video of you and your spouse to show at your wedding. As an add-on, I will take beautiful couples shots at a separate time and location that can be added into your final wedding video. You can wear your wedding dress, or any outfit that makes you feel comfortable and confident. Let's head to a breathtaking location and capture your love!
