

Congratulations!

It is such an honor to be part of designing your wedding celebration. At Abby's, our goal is to give you the most BEAUTIFUL floral designs possible that meet the vision you have for your wedding design and your budget.

There is such a wide range in wedding floral pricing based on the types of flowers you are looking for, the season of your wedding and the complexity of your vision. At your consultation we will start by going through your inspiration photos and give you feedback about what you can expect to spend to make your vision a reality. After your consultation we will provide you a detailed proposal with the description of the florals and decor and a price estimate.

Below is an average cost of wedding florals from some of our real weddings:

Bridal Bouquet	$185 - $400 +
Bridesmaid Bouquet	$65 - $125+
Boutonniere	$18 - $35+
Corsages	$28 - $40+
Ceremony Decor	$250 +
Centerpieces	$40 - $250+

Frequently Asked Questions:

I have no idea how much wedding flowers cost. How do I set a budget?

We recommend looking on various wedding websites like The Knot, Wedding Wire and popular wedding blogs to get an idea for how much you can expect to pay for your wedding flowers. One of our principles is to provide a beautiful product for a fair price.

What should I expect at my consultation and how far out from my wedding date should I schedule it?

We recommend booking your consultation as soon as you have your venue, your dress and a general color pallet. Before your consultation we will ask you to send us your “Inspiration Photos” so we can start thinking about your style. After your consultation we will send you a detailed proposal. We only take a certain number of weddings each day and weekend so the sooner the better! You can access our calendar and book your consultation directly on our website.

Why does my wedding date affect the price I pay for flowers?

If your wedding falls within the days of a major holiday for the floral industry we will pay a premium for your flowers (i.e. Valentine’s Day, Mother’s Day). You may also be asking for a flower that is not in season. While most flowers are available year round, a flower that is out of season is more costly. Abby’s will take these factors into consideration when detailing your proposal and mention this at your consultation. Once you receive a proposal from us you are guaranteed that price.

Can I bring in some of my own decor? Who sets that up?

This is something we are happy to discuss at your consultation. We can certainly incorporate some of your personal items into the design and include the set-up in our installation fee. Some of your decor items may be set up by your venue or wedding coordinator.

Who is responsible for clean-up at the end of the night?

It depends. Some of the vases and decor we use are yours to take or give to family and friends. Some you will rent from us. Depending on the venue, we may be required to take all of our merchandise that evening so a clean-up fee will apply. You will also be given the option to return merchandise to our design shop after the event.

I have heard the groom's family should pay for the flowers. Is that true?

In the "Everything Wedding Book" by Shelly Hagen, traditionally the Groom's family pays for the bride's bouquet, the mothers and grandmother's corsages and the boutonniere's for the groom's family. The bride and her family pay for the rest. This is definitely an older custom and in our experience, not observed much anymore.

What happens if I have planned an outdoor ceremony and it rains?

Our Lead Designer will discuss this at the final consultation. If our staff is required to stay for additional hours to conduct a "room-flip" payment will be due at the time of service.

What is the payment schedule and can I make changes once I book your services?

After you sign your Event Design Agreement 30% of your proposal will be due as a deposit to secure your day. Your final payment will be due 30 days prior to your wedding.

Once the agreement has been signed, you are contracting with our company for the amount of products and services specified in the Event Design Agreement. Abby's at The Cottage only takes a certain number of events per weekend based on your agreement; however, minor changes can be made during the final consultation. Before you book our services, our Director of Sales will discuss this with you in further detail.
