

PRICING:

Custom digital watercolor painting: $100 - $250

*the price is affected by the complexity of the scene (ex: how many people, detail of the background, etc). This option can be done live at your event. I would come and create your painting digitally and you would have it by the end of your event or by the following morning. Travel will be added on to the price depending on how far I would have to go to be present.

Custom traditional watercolor painting: $200 - $375

*this takes far more time to complete than a digital painting and the price is also affected by the complexity of the scene. I also am not offering to do this live at your wedding; the set up required to do traditional watercolor well is not easily achieved at a wedding, and as I want your painting to come out as amazing as possible, I would do this from a photo reference and deliver it to you after your big day.

I'm always willing to work with my couples to create something special for their wedding day, so if you have an idea and want to know if it's possible please reach out and I'll try my best to make it happen!
