WHAT IS INVOLVED IN DETERMINING THE FEE AND WORKING WITH LYRICAL LIFE CEREMONIES?

First, Diane will interview you to find out about what you have in mind for your special ceremony. This is a free, no obligation discussion. At the end of that discussion, she will give you the price for working with you on the ceremony you have in mind.

If you would like to proceed to work with Diane, she will send you a contract. A signed contract and deposit are required to hold the date for a wedding ceremony and (if applicable) the rehearsal date. Other types of ceremonies might not require a deposit.

Diane will work with you and any other appropriate family members to create a meaningful ceremony that reflects your beliefs, values and personality. She will integrate rituals, symbols, readings, and music meaningful to you. She will review drafts of the ceremony with you until you are pleased with a final version. You will have complete approval of the ceremony, which will be professionally written and original. Diane will officiate at the ceremony, and if a rehearsal is involved, she will also lead the rehearsal, or co-lead it with a day-of or venue coordinator. Following the ceremony, she will email to you a keepsake copy of the ceremony script. For weddings, she will also take care of getting the marriage license back to the county Clerk and Recorder's office unless the couple requests otherwise.
