People ask me, "Why are your prices so low?"

The Gforce Band is priced significantly lower than other high quality bands in the industry. How do we do it?

First, I operate out of my home office. This keeps the overhead low and my clients can enjoy the relaxed casual atmosphere when they come to view our video tape. We sell the band using the videos instead of doing exorbitant showcases. Showcases are a huge expense for the band. This cost eventually gets passed on to you, the buyer.

Second, I use the internet and word of mouth as our primary advertising vehicles. This is a very inexpensive way of getting our band in front of a large amount of clients. I find that net savvy people are more intelligent customers who can recognize great quality and good value.

I am absolutely committed to keeping our costs as low as possible while providing a standard of excellence that is unparalleled in the industry. I offer personalized, detailed oriented service, the likes of which you can only get with an agency like Grillo Music.
