THE ENGAGEMENT SESSION

The Engagement Session is a must! Not only is it (usually) our first chance to work together, but it's tons of fun too! We take you and your sweetheart to a shooting location that reflects the style of your wedding and customize these portraits to scream "We're in love! We're in love and we don't care who knows it!!!" . With the inevitable stress of planning your big day, this is an opportunity to steal away and just be together looking adorable.

There are also practical reasons for an engagement session, too. For example, many people use shots from their engagement shoot for save the dates, wedding invitations and even thank you cards post-wedding. (Psst. We can totally hook you up with those extras.) It gives us time to get to know each other a bit too and takes the edge off of at least one area on your big day!

Your engagement photographs are also great to use on your engagement website, for announcing your engagement online and for simply documenting yourself as a young and in-love couple. I promise you, your grandkids will get a kick out of these pictures in, say, 40 years!

"They are a warm, wild, and exciting group! Full of smiles, and hard work! I love being around them, I trust them with making me look natural, and beautiful!"

YOUR WEDDING DAY COVERAGE

"They are creative, and patient, and super easy to be around. They never seem stressed or frazzled and always handle (even the toughest personalities) with ease!"

WHAT WE CATCH ON YOUR BIG DAY...

REDDOOR will be with you every step of the way to capture those details you have spent monthspouring over. We know what that is like! Even though we are right there in the action, we stay mostly out of the way aside from a couple posing pointers but you will be a pro after our engagement session together anyway.

Getting Ready

We start the day by photographing you getting ready. Don't worry. This is all very much G-rated and we'll make sure to capture your pretty face only after you're all done up. Think detail shots of your fragrance du jour, you slipping into your beautiful shoes, a crowd of happy bridesmaids in their slouchy sweatpants and impeccable hair. The same is true for the men, too. We'll capture them fastening boutonnières to their lapels, candid of dad giving the groom some sage advice and groomsmen laughing it up while the women get ready.

Portraits

When you book with REDDOOR, you'll also get formal and informal portrait shots. That includes those gorgeous bridal portraits, handsome pics of the groom (perfect for propping up on your work desk), group shots of the entire bridal party and all the family portrait shots you could ever want. We like to do a mix of both casual and traditional for these shots.

Ceremony and Reception

Of course, we also document your entire wedding ceremony and reception, complete with all those big -- and small -- moments that you will cherish forever. That includes walking down the aisle, the big kiss, musicians playing, and family and friends listening/watching. We'll also capture all those fun and heartfelt moments at your reception, from tearful and hilarious toasts to some mad dancing skills to cake cutting and beyond.

Details

Rest assured we'll capture all those details you planned, as well. You spent good money -- and time -- planning your special day; we're here to make sure it's documented beautifully. We'll photograph the tiniest details on your wedding favors, the sugary flower ornaments on your cake, the lanterns hanging in the trees and anything else you thoughtfully included.

Extras

Depending on the package you choose, we'll also be there for other moments leading up to your wedding day, including the rehearsal, rehearsal dinner, bachelorette and bachelor parties and even your wedding or bridal shower.

TIPS AND TRICKS

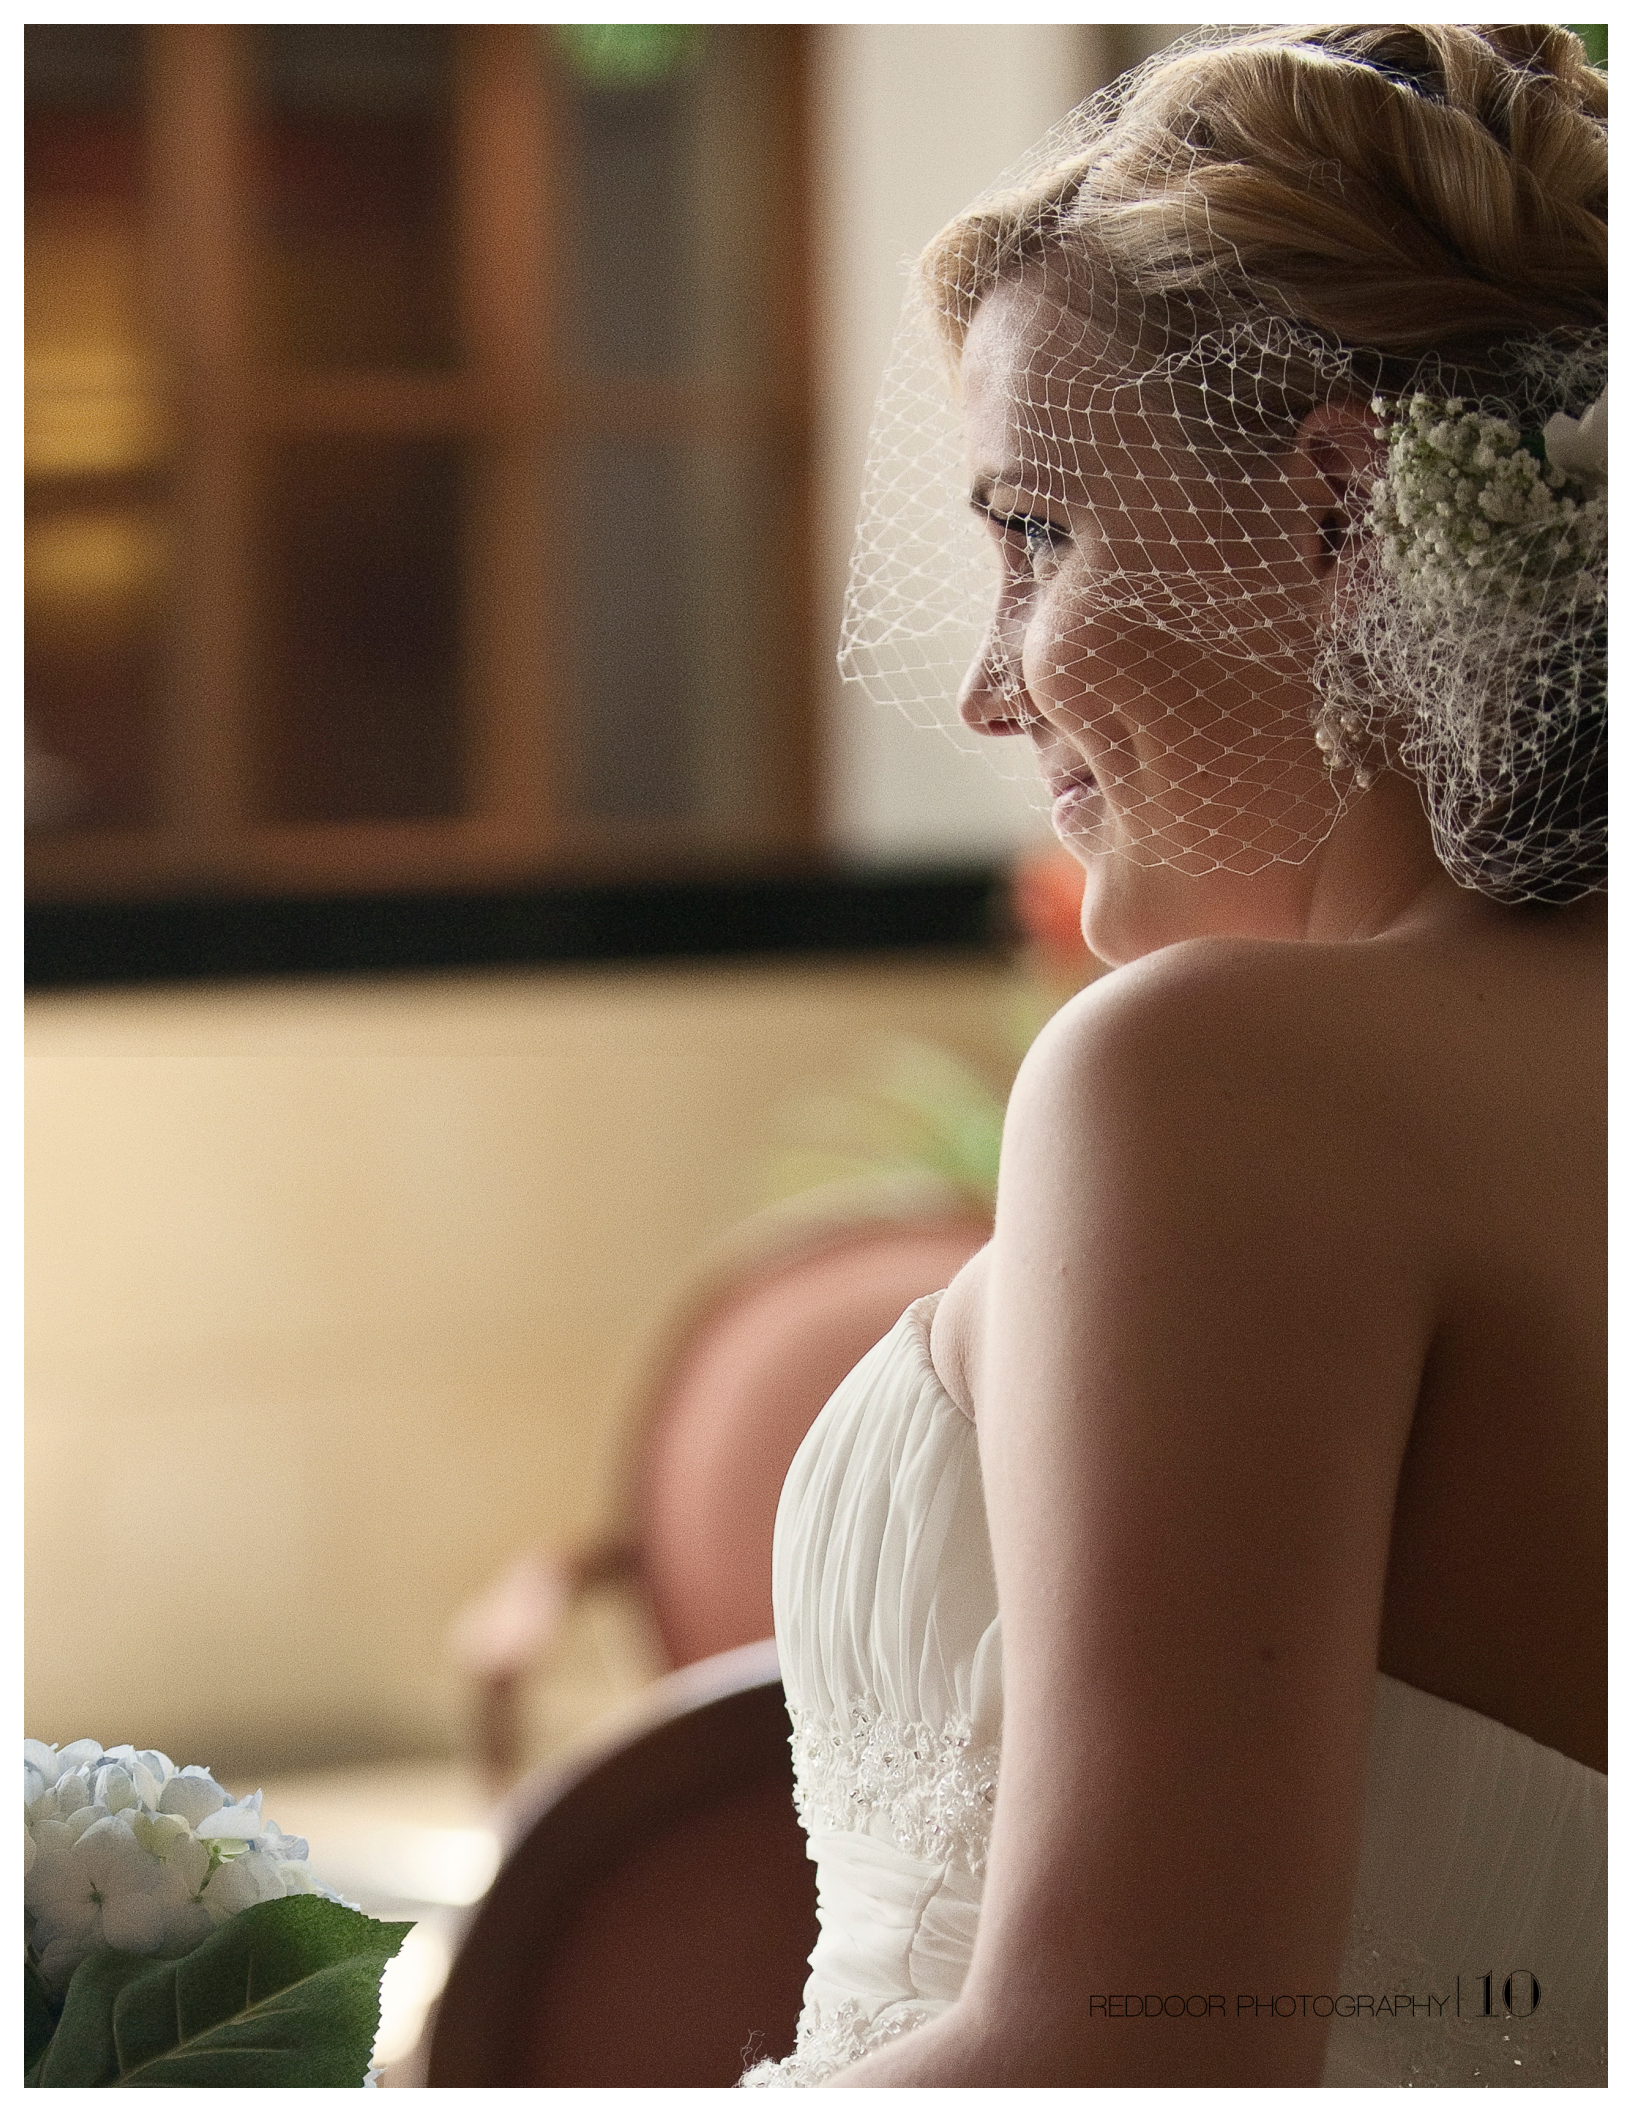

a handy checklist to keep you organized!

1. Create a detailed timeline your wedding day that includes when flowers are set to arrive, when people should arrive, when hair and makeup will get done, etc. Include exact times and locations. Share this timeline with everyone involved in your wedding, including your photographer.
2. Have food on hand while you get ready. I know it's the last thing you are thinking of but having healthy snacks and lots of water on hand will make for a better day for everyone.
3. Practice walking in your wedding day shoes to make sure they're comfortable enough to stand around in for your portraits and for the duration of your wedding. Pain is beauty, yes, but looking pained in a picture isn't worth the discomfort.
4. Pack a "wedding day emergency" kit and bring it along with you on your big day. Essentials include some clear nail polish for snags, pain reliever for headaches, any makeup you need for touching up and a travel sewing kit. Band-Aids, lozenges, tampons and tissues are also good.
5. Have your cake and flowers arrive at the latest possible moment (but still budget in some buffer time). Flowers wilt and cakes can melt on hot days, so putting these deliveries off can ensure both look great for your pictures, ceremony and reception.
6. Have a "spot checker" on hand who's there to help you out with things like tangled trains, smeared lipstick or out-of-place hair. This can be someone in your bridal party or the mother of the bride, for example.
7. Whether you're doing your makeup yourself or having a makeup artist come in, do a trial run. This is especially important if you have sensitive skin, as an allergic reaction on your wedding day would not be good.
8. Order at least 25 extra wedding invitations than you think you'll need. It's better to have extras "just in case" and often times it's less expensive to buy in bulk than to order just a few extra.
9. Follow up with all your vendors a week before your wedding to make sure everything is in place and ready to go. Should anything be wrong (say, the florist only has you down for 4 bouquets instead of 5), this will provide plenty of time to fix the mistake.
10. Expect the unexpected. Sometimes things don't go as planned, and that's OK. In the long term, it's your outlook and attitude that makes for a brilliant, successful day.

FAQS

DO YOU TAKE PAYMENT INSTALLMENTS?

Yes, of course. We can work out a payment schedule to make things simple. We require 1/3 down to lock in your date. The next 1/3 will be due as scheduled with contract. The final 1/3 due two weeks before your wedding.

SOMEONE ELSE IS PAYING FOR OUR PHOTOS. WHO SIGNS THE CONTRACT?

No matter who's paying for the photographs, it's always you -- the bride and groom -- who signs the contract. You'll also be our primary contact and who we speak with leading up to, on the day of, and the days following your wedding.

CAN I HIRE AN ADDITIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER TO SHOOT OUR WEDDING?

The contract you sign states that Reddoor photographers are the only photographers allowed to shoot on your wedding day. This helps promote our creativeness and ensures you get the best photos. We do offer additional shooters depending on the photo package you choose. As long as guests are respectful of the job we are there to do, they can take pictures with their cameras/phones.

CAN I HIRE YOU TO SHOOT MY DESTINATION WEDDING?

We absolutely love destinations! So the answer to your question is a resounding, "Yes!" We have a separate contract for destination weddings, which details accommodations and travel expenditures.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO GET MY PICTURES?

You will always receive your pictures within 8 weeks, but maybe earlier. During the busy season, we sometimes get backlogged, but even then we do our best to have all digital negatives to you within 8 weeks.

DO YOU PROVIDE CUSTOMIZED PACKAGES?

Not all weddings are the same -- we get it! For that reason, we may provide a customized wedding package to suit your needs. These customized packages are for weddings that are far outside the norm (for example, a very short, intimate wedding between only parents and the bride/groom). Talk to us and we'll make it work!
