A Little About Us...

Hi there.

We are Alvaro and Madison, a husband /wife team working both together and separately to provide wedding videography and photography.

Not only are we crazy in love with each other and our sweet little family, but we are also crazy in love with weddings. Being in love with weddings is a big part of our work, because we get almost as excited about your wedding day as you do. And when people are excited about what they do it shows through in their attitude, effort and final product.

Alvaro, born and raised in Costa Rica, is our videographer extraordinaire. He has lived in the US for over 6 years, speaks both Spanish and English fluently and is a master at capturing those special moments and details that tell the whole story of your wedding day.

Madison, a New York native, has been photographing weddings for over 10 years and has documented over 400 weddings. Before getting into the photography scene she was a wedding planner for 3 years, and has accumulated a lot of insider information, tips and tricks about weddings in general.

We are passionate about telling love stories with our cameras, and we enjoy hearing about love stories from you. So please, drop us a line, and tell us a bit about your sweetheart.

Our Style

For both photo and video we shoot in a very photojournalistic style. We give little direction throughout the day, except for during the portrait session.

This allows us to capture the real moments and reactions that form when no posing or direction is given.

We edit in a muted color tone with a moody, vintage look. What we love about this type of editing is the emotion that it provokes.
