Custom Pricing Information

I get it... you're dying to know... "how much will the flowers cost?" and I completely understand. I wish I could tell you right away! Promise I'm not trying to be coy or enigmatic when I saw this but... The first thing you want to know is one of the last things I can answer with total accuracy. The answer is: it depends on what you want! I know that's frustrating, but flowers vary so much in price. But I want you to be able to plan within your budget so I will provide a price range as best as I am able. Keep in mind that flower prices vary due to season and availability. For example, if you want peonies in December, you can expect to pay ten times more than what they will cost in June... so not only does it depend on what you want, but it also depends on when you want it.
