Things You Should Know

Who I Am

Hudson Valley female empowered photographer encouraging couples to follow their hearts.

I hold a special place in my heart for intimate weddings, destination weddings, elopements, and anything in nature.

I thrive off of positive energy and always promise to bring my own. For each couple I work with, I create a detailed timeline, pose list, and photo itinerary to ensure a smooth, relaxing, organized, and absolutely magical day. I've got a case of wanderlust and adore nature.

Let's explore.

Choosing Your Photographer

On your wedding day, while I'm capturing everything in the present moment, I'll be thinking about your future. Because wedding photographs are forever. These are the snapshots your grandchildren, great grandchildren, and whoever comes next will have to look back upon. So don't let your choice of photographer be a regret. This is an investment and one of the most important choices you can make in the process. Here are some tips:

Research

Make sure you love the pictures themselves, not just what's in them (like the dress or background).

Budget

There is a perfect photographer for every wedding. Find the right balance between your budget and vision.

Timeline

Include your photographer in the timeline conversation so that every important aspect is covered.

Connection

If you and your photographer don't connect, it's probably not the right choice. Go with one you get a great feeling from.

Trust Your Gut

I say this time and time again: your photographer will be with you more than any other professional on your wedding day. Your intuition will guide you in the right direction.

Do Not Lose Track Of What This Day Is About

It is not only the day you get married, but the first day of your marriage. You will have many people telling you how things should be done, but stay true to yourselves. Elope to a waterfall or top of a mountain. Host an intimate wedding in a garden. Throw a giant party in a field. Do whatever makes your hearts sing.

Things You Should Know

Style

I consider myself a documentary photographer. I like to take you on an adventure and as you are exploring the earth and each other, I document the moments in between.

Booking

After we meet over Zoom, together we sign a contract and a deposit of 1/3 of your total package price is due to reserve your date. This can be done electronically. I typically book 12-20 months in advance.

My Role

I arrive when scheduled, help the day flow, capture candid moments, organize and pose family photographs, and document the day as it unfolds. Feel confident and comfortable knowing I am here for you.

Timeline

Every package is different, but about a month before your wedding, I will send out an online questionnaire requesting information about locations, times, family photographs you desire, and other various details to help organize the timeline

Details

Logistics matter. It's ideal when getting ready, the ceremony, and the party are all in the same vicinity. Keep in mind the size of your bridal party and the natural lighting in your getting ready location, as space and light are so important in these early moments.

Image & Print Delivery

I typically send a sneak peek of 10-20 images a few days after the wedding, and then provide your full online gallery by 4-6 weeks after the date. Then, once you make your print choices, your prints will be delivered within 4-6 weeks after that. Albums may take 2-3 months after photograph choices have been made.

Travel

I'm based in Poughkeepsie, NY and travel worldwide.

Insurance

Don't worry. My business is insured and I have the liability insurance required by most venues.
