What you Get

DJ Malike made our wedding, seriously! Right from the start his professionalism and genuine care could not be questioned. We were a bit overwhelmed by the time our first meeting took place, all we could think about is how important the right music for our day and it seemed impossible given the fact that we have such a love for a wide variety of music. Needless to say, we couldn't fathom how to incorporate it all and still make the day a hit. After giving him a general rundown for the day and a list of a few songs we couldn't go without, Malike took the time to build a playlist for our entire day. Step by step he offered suggestions and made us feel like our wedding was the only thing that mattered. If you're anything like us and feeling a bit lost in how to create the perfect setting, then Malike is your guy! The big day went off without a hitch! Malike was ahead of schedule arriving a bit early to discuss the day with our venue coordinator making sure no detail was missed, and it was a huge relief. It wasn't until then I realized a good DJ is SO much more than the music. He literally coordinated the entire day for us, and man is he good at it! Everyone loved the music, his suggested couples dance, and the passion he had that flowed into everyone there. I can't tell you the amount of people that came up to us at the wedding and said how kind, and fun Malike is. We are beyond blessed to have had him be a part of our day, not only as a DJ but as a friend.

Organized Planning

We will sit down and talk through your whole wedding, walk through when and how to play the songs you want. We talk through the different planned moments that you want to happen. If you need any suggestions on when to do things, I will gladly give you my informed opinion.

The Ceremony

It starts with me playing nice soft music for your guests. The playlist for the prelude can be your customized list or something I come up with based off your style and taste. The next step is to play your Procession and Bridal entrances. I make sure that everything is on time and smoothly transitions from one moment to the other. I mic up your officiant and you if you choose. I use the best quality mics and sound system so that everything is clear. If you have any other special moments you want to create during your ceremony, I will make the proper arrangements to make it happen. I make sure I coordinate with the photographer and videographer to ensure that everything is well documented.

Cocktail Hour

While you're off with your newly married spouse, I am with your guests playing just right tunes to keep everyone comfortable and musically satisfied. I play that perfect combination of background music to keep everyone drinking and talking. Don't worry, it's just a warm up of what's to come.

The Reception

This is my favourite part by far. This is where I really come alive to bring that party atmosphere that keeps everyone talking about your wedding for years to come. Once your pictures are done during the cocktail hour, your guests will be ready to welcome you two into the reception area. This is where I bring that energy. This is where everyone gets off their seats and cheers you and your bridal party on. It is literally one of the greatest feelings to be apart of. From that point on, the energy level of the venue continues to rise. From the toast to the first dances, cake, bouquet toss, and send-off. I must add that my absolute favourite part of the wedding is seeing you and your guests getting down on the dance floor. There's something about seeing the pure celebration of two great
