

Brian Little Productions Wedding Packages Spring/Summer 2017

What sets our wedding films apart from other companies?

We believe that weddings are more than an event to document for a keepsake. We believe that weddings are a story; A story of two lives coming together at one very special place in time. Weddings have emotions, some happy, some sad. Weddings have colors, locations, style, and character. Weddings involve people with personalities, hopes, dreams, and ideas.

Our goal is to capture those people within the event that is taking place. Not so it is documented, but so it is captured and remembered in relationship to the story that is unfolding. Our goal when you watch your finished film is to laugh, cry, and remember. Whether it is the first anniversary or the 50th, we want the emotion to remain the same.
