

I operate differently than other photographers because I want to capture the untouched moments. It is my belief that wedding photos should tell the story of your day in a truthful and real way. I don't work from a set list of posed and planned instances (unless it's family photos) and want to provide you with photographs that will make you laugh, cry and remember that one moment in time where your Aunt Kathy had a little too much wine and karaoke-d AC/DC like the badass she is.
