Dear Flower Friends,

Thanks so much for thinking of our farm's flowers and floral design services for supporting your wedding celebration! We are very excited for you as you enter into new adventures and commitments in love and life.

Our farm is a seasonal feast of colors, blooms, and soft aromatics – there are countless ways to put together a floral feast for you! Enclosed is some general pricing information regarding flower options as a starting point for our conversation. I am happy to explore flower possibilities with you based on needs/ideas and after we connect and I can adjust, put together a custom proposal for you.

I look forward to being in touch and thank you for your time and interest in local flowers!

Warmly,

Erin Schneider

What we will offer Clients: Professionally grown, fresh from the garden, vibrant, local, organic, seasonal cut flowers and bouquets designed and grown with love and care for you from our farm to your vase. We hope to illuminate your celebration with the ephemeral magic of locally-grown flowers that we take great care to grow and design for you.

What we Request from Client:

One point person responsible for communication with us.

Diversity in colors, species, and textures is part of our risk management strategy at our farm, and we make every effort to meet your color palette and flower type preference. We ask for your flexibility and understanding that some colors/species of flowers may not be available due to the variable nature, unforeseen outcomes due to weather.

Confirmation of any additional flower requests to be made 8 days prior to the event.

As a flower farmer I don't have the capacity to guarantee varieties and colors, though I do have the capacity to provide you with gorgeous unique variety of blooms, picked at their prime and grown to last just for you!
