

You said YES !!!! Now what is next ?..... PLANNING. You have to get everything from the venue , event planner , cake and not to mention the dress. This can all be very overwhelming!, but a good thing is you're able to consult with a specialist in each area. That is where I come in, you reached out to me because you're looking for a specialist in bridal makeup. With numerous weddings under my belt from Florida to California I am experienced enough to make your wedding day look come to life. It is pertinent that you book a bridal artist at this point for reassurance that your day will run smoothly because the most important part of your glorious union is ...YOU. And the same way you consult with your photographer or wedding planner you should do the same thing with your bridal artist as you will be taking pictures all day of your beautiful nuptials. During this consultation not only do we figure out which look is perfect for you but we put your mind at ease about at least one thing on your list. We will conduct a bridal trial during the consultation and discuss monetary compensation for your special day. Our bridal consultation is rated at $75.00 but you can't put a price on peace of mind. From there we go on to booking your bridal service appointment. When ready email me so I can schedule your consultation. I look forward to working with you & congratulations on your engagement !
