I consider it an honor to be asked to be a part of someone's wedding. This is one of the most important days of your life, and the images captured should be nothing short of the love you share for one another. As your photographer or videographer, I am there to catch everything from "I Do", to those quiet moments just before walking down the aisle.

WEDDINGS

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How will I receive my photos?

Digital copies of your photos are provided to you with a link to your own online gallery. It's easy to use and navigate, and will allow you to share with family and friends, order prints, and select images for albums.

Do we receive all of the images from our wedding?

I can promise you that you do not want every image taken at your wedding! I easily take anywhere from 2,000-4,000 images per wedding. Many of these are test shots, people may have their eyes closed, some unintentional (or intentional) photobombs, out of focus, etc.

One of the most important parts of my job is to look through every image and select the best photos that represent your day to the fullest. Depending on the collection you choose, couples will receive at the very minimum 100 final high resolution images from their wedding day.

How many photographers come with you on the wedding day?

Depending on the collection you choose, I offer 1-2 photographers to capture your day. If you're unsure of how many photographers you need at your wedding, I'm happy to discuss this with you before booking!

If you do book with me, I will ask that you please do not bring any additional photographers to your wedding without me knowing in advance. I know this may seem completely harmless, but this can be extremely distracting and, in the long run, detrimental to your photos. If they don't know me or my normal shooting flow, they won't know where I plan to be during the ceremony and could possibly be in the way and/or jeopardize getting the most important shots—which is what you are trusting me with! If you feel a second shooter is absolutely necessary for your wedding, just discuss with me before booking and we'll be sure to make it happen!

How much is the deposit?

For any wedding collections totaling over $1000, a non-refundable $500 deposit is required at the signing of the contract. The remaining balance is due 2 weeks prior to your wedding date and an invoice will be sent via email beforehand.

For wedding collections totaling under $1000, a 50% non-refundable deposit is required at the signing of the contract, and the remaining balance is due 2 weeks prior to the wedding date.

Can you hold my wedding date without a deposit?

Unfortunately, no. If you inquire about a date but haven't paid a deposit yet, you will receive priority if another couple is to inquire about that same date. If within 5 days you haven't paid the deposit, then that date will then be offered to other inquiries.

What happens if you get sick on my wedding day?

I'm generally a pretty healthy person year-round, and I strive to take good care of myself (especially before a wedding), so the chances of that are pretty unlikely. However, if something really terrible should happen and keep me from being at your wedding, I will do my best to secure a backup photographer ready to be there.

What will you do if something happens to my photos?

This is every photographer's worst nightmare. I personally use a camera with two SD card slots to prevent losing images if a card fails, and my photos are always backed up shortly after a wedding. I can assure you I always take lots of precautions to avoid the chances of this ever happening, so the likelihood of that happening is very slim. However, in the event that something were to happen, a full refund would be issued.

What information do you need from us?

30 days before the wedding, I always setup a final consultation with my couples to make sure we're on the same page about the plan for their day. This keeps me prepared and aware of what's going on, and also keeps you less stressed and worried about having to answer any important questions on the day of the wedding!

All bridal sessions include a scheduled consultation with the bride, a custom online gallery with three (3) months of hosting, and a custom blog post on www.racheldebusk.com featuring the highlights of your day.*
