Pre-wedding consultation

The pre-wedding consultation is a crucial step in ensuring that the photographer understands the couple's needs and preferences and is able to capture their wedding day in a way that is unique and special to them.

photography coverage

Photographic story telling of the wedding by using a combination between documentary (candid), editorial (posed), portraiture and fashion photography styles.

Post-production

Editing the best images from the wedding in Olga's signature bright and airy style. The goal of editing wedding images is to produce a final set of high-quality, polished, and cohesive images that capture the beauty and emotions of the wedding day.

Online gallery

Beautiful and convenient way for the couple and their guests to access, view, share and download the full resolution images from the wedding.
