A new best friend. I won't just be your photographer. I am here to be your wedding comrade. I give you advice. Put out any fires. Make sure the day goes smoothly... and so much more. If you want a photographer who will just show up to shoot your day then - we are not the ones for you. Most of my brides text me with questions about anything and everything and i LOVE it. You are not just becoming a client when you sign with us, you are joining our community. Or as we call it the catie's captures circle. So head on over to our contact page and let's get this friendship started !
