EXPLANATION OF PACKAGE ITEMS AND TERMS

Sometimes we totally nerd out and forget that most people don't know what we're talking about when it comes to filmmaking. Everyone has their niche and ours is video production. To make things easier we try to explain processes and terms in a simplified manner to help our clients but sometimes it is still too confusing. To try to help make this communication better we've broken down our terms.

COVERAGE refers to the time spent by our cinematographer(s) filming your wedding. Depending on your package there might be one, two, or three cinematographers and/or editors working. Having this team allows us to cover more angles and capture more footage. It is especially helpful to have multiple people on cameras during the ceremony, first look, or reception dances and speeches.

To be more specific, a CINEMATOGRAPHER as compared to a videographer is a term to describe their attention to capture more of a story-based film. All of our secondary cinematographers at WFPHD

Weddings have been trained by Will Brown on how to shoot in this style and work on a wedding team-based project. We like to think of ourselves as professional filmmakers who shoot weddings.

FEATURE FILMS are the main piece created from your wedding footage and depending on the amount of coverage recorded at your wedding and packaging option it can be from 4 to 20 minutes long. This film is the best edit that we can create and features detailed story based video editing, audio design, color correction, and industry-standard file processing.

A DOCUMENTARY EDIT is a chronological account of the entire wedding day broken into chapters. This film includes all of the footage that didn't make it into the feature film edit. You'll find preparation, ceremony, reception, speeches, dances, cake cutting and all other footage in this cut of your wedding. The ceremony, speeches and dances are professionally recorded with multiple audio sources so you can hear your vows, any readings, The best man/maid of honor's speeches and the songs you and your parents danced to. We shoot with multiple cameras so that every angle and every second is captured.

The delivery of your WEDDING PACKAGE is guaranteed on or before the three-month anniversary of your wedding day. The final package you will receive is a bubble wrap envelope containing all of your material. Your wedding films are contained within a custom-designed flash drive. Your videos are .mpeg files on the drive and are playable on any computer or USB-compatible device. Your feature film is also uploaded to Vimeo and YouTube so you can watch online and share with family and friends.
